TWO KILLED IN WEST 'O' CRASH

Cars Hit During Police Chase

A man and a woman were dead and 4 others seriously injured early Thursday morning after a near head-on collision on West O near the Salt Creek Bridge.

The west-bound car in which the two who were killed were riding was being pursued by a Lincoln police car.

It was traveling in excess of 70 miles per hour, according to Officers Frank Soukup and Delmar Carlson.

The officers said they began pursuit when they observed the car speeding.

One victim was identified as Alvin Tooke of 850 No. 21st. He was said to be the driver of the westbound car involved in the crash. He was about 18 to 21 years old.

The other victim, a woman, was reported to have been a passenger in the rear seat of the Tooke car. Her name was not released early Thursday, nor were the names of the injured.

The west-bound car was passing a car driven by Star police reporter Jim Woodson about 180 feet east of the bridge when the collision occured.

Other Also Passing

Woodson said that the east-bound car involved in the accident was passing another east-bound car when the accident happened.

Woodson said, "The two cars seemed to bounce up in the air as they collided."

Tooke, the driver, and one female passenger in the west-bound car were killed. Three other passengers, two men and a woman, in the west-bound car were injured, as well as the driver of the east-bound car.

One of the injured persons was said to be in "doubtful" condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital early Thursday.

Tooke, a junior at Lincoln High School, was a top basketball player. As a sophomore, he won the weekly Capital Performance award, from The Star, the first sophomore to do so.

The two deaths brought the Nebraska trafifc death toll to 327, compared with 284 on Nov. 8, 1961.

The toll in Lincoln is now 8, and for Lancaster County 32. On this date last year the Lincoln toll stood at 6. The Lancaster County toll, excluding Lincoln, was 8.

GOVERNOR SMILES . . . New term ahead.

—MORRISON'S VIEW—

Ag Research Key To Win

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison Wednesday placed his finger on striking progress in Nebraska's agricultural research program as the key voter appeal factor in his re-election victory.

Tasting the sweet fruit of the largest Democratic gubernatorial triumph in the past 26 years, Morrison pointed to 5 phases of his program which he believes attracted heavy voter approval.

First, "by far," the 57-year-old chief executive declared, was the agricultural program and its efforts to find new uses for farm commodities.

Next, Morrison listed his administration's emphasis on soil and water conservation, institutional management and special education programs.

Highway Vindication

In addition, he said, his victory proved that "people generally realized that we have obtained a substantial acceleration in highway construction."

As such, Morrison declared, his re-election provided a "vindication" of the State Department of Roads.

The governor — who captured 54 of the 93 counties and nearly 53% of the popular vote — said his administration will now turns its primary attention to state promotion.

A series of weekend conferences centered on specific subjects will be launched at Camp Ashland, Morrison noted.

Regional development conferences will be called throughout the state, he said, centering on community planning, recreational development, industrial development, basin-wide soil and water utilization programs and basic over-all economic development.

High Gear Again

And the programs which have been "disrupted for the past 6 months" by the general election campaign will move once again "into high gear," Morrison declared.

Weary from the long campaign and a bare 5 hours of sleep early Wednesday, the governor fielded hundreds of congratulatory telephone calls and telegrams throughout the day.

He was "especially pleased" to have won counties in all parts of the state in contrast to 1960 when his victory was accomplished in just 35 counties, particularly populous Douglas and Lancaster.

Not since 1936—when Gov. Roy Cochran captured a second term—had a Democrat won a majority of the counties or a heavier percentage of the vote.

Morrison was "happy" that Nebraska voters also approved a 4-year term for governors (beginning in 1966), noting that "problems are so complex today that they demand long-range programming."

Two "Not Enough"

A key point in the governor's campaign was his insistence that two years is "not enough time" to complete an administrative program.

Morrison said he will formulate his legislative program in the coming weeks, with chief emphasis on a budget, agricultural research, tourist development, traffic safety and soil and water conservation.

Proposals will also be forthcoming for a space utilization study including records preservation and data processing, and a state motor pool, he noted.

Morrison gained ultimate victory over Republican gubernatorial nominee Fred Seaton, he said, because, in the end, "a majority of the people had faith in our program and did not want to interrupt it after two years."

Congress Still In Democ Hands

Washington (AP)—Democrats came out of the election Wednesday with commanding control of Congress, and for President Kennedy this probably means easier sailing in the Senate, perhaps a little harder going in the House.

The Democrats wound up with a whopping 68-32 majority in the Senate, the biggest margin since 1938, and apparently lost less ground in the House than is usual in off-year elections.

With 5 of the 435 House races still undecided, Democrats had won 254 seats, Republicans 176. Democrats were leading in the undecided races.

With only one race still undecided, Democrats had won 258 seats, Republicans 176. A Democrat led in the still undecided contest, in Alaska.

Nipped Hopes

Thus the ballot counting nipped Republican hopes to cut sharply into the 261-174 majority held by the Democrats before the election. Majority parties in the last 12 prior off-year elections had lost an average of 40 house seats to the minority.

Veteran Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., after the fight of his political life, and Sen. Ernest Gruening of Alaska won the 67th and 68th seats for the Democrats.

Hill edge out James D. Martin, his Republican challenger, by a margin so surprisingly slim in that traditionally Democratic state that there was talk in GOP circles of demanding a recount of the votes.

Gruening defeated Republican Ted Stevens.

Greatest

The election over-all gave Kennedy less than the dramatic big gains for which he had appealed, but Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, called it "the greatest off-year sweep in 30 years" for the 39 Senate seats at stake in the voting.

The Senate elects a third or more members every two years, one number of extra ones depending on how many vacancies are occasioned by death or other reason.

In Tuesday's balloting, the Democrats captured 6 Senate seats held by Republcan incumbents—in Connecticut, Indiana, Maryland, New Hampshire, South Dakota and Wisconsin. Republicans won previously Democratic seats in Colorado and Wyoming.

Swelled

Late returns from South Dakota and Washington state swelled the Senate Democratic victory bag.

George McGovern, President Kennedy's former food for peace director, defeated Sen. Joe H. Bottum, R-S.D., who had been appointed to succeed the late GOP Sen. Francis Case.

Veteran Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate commerce committee, defeated Republican Richard G. Christensen in a surprisingly close race.

Crazy Quilt

A crazy quilt pattern of contrasts and upsets emerged from the election and toppled some prominent legislators.

Down to defeat went Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., former chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., former Senate Banking Committee Chairman, both veterans. Wiley lost to Wisconsin's Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson, Capehart to Birch E. Bayh Jr.

Typical of the odd turns in the voting trends, the avowed Republican conservative Peter H. Dominick defeated Sen. John A. Carroll, D-Colo., an avowed liberal, and Republican Milward L. Simpson toppled Sen. J. J. Hickey, D-Wyo.

A particular feather in the Kennedy cap was the election of the President's brother, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, over Republican George Cabot Lodge to the President's old Massachusetts Senate seat.

Another was the election to the Senate of Abraham Ribicoff, former secretary of health, education and welfare, over Republican Horace Seely-Brown, Jr., in Connecticut.

On the other hand New Hampshire voters elected Democrat Thomas J. McIntyre to the Senate over Republican Perkins Bass, who retired from the House to make the race. Not in 30 years had this GOP stronghold state sent a Democrat to Washington.

A factional fight among New Hampshire Republicans evidently was an important factor in the outcome, but did not prevent the victory of Sen. Norris Cotton over his Democratic challenger, Alfred Catalfo Jr., in the state's other senatorial race.

Elevator In Eagle Burns To Ground, Star Carrier Says

The Continental Grain Co. elevator in Eagle burned down Thursday morning. Fire companies from Alvo and Eagle stood by to protect surrounding buildings after hope of saving the elevators was abandoned.

The fire began about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday night. It was expected to burn all night.

The fire was first reported to The Star by Star carrier Claudia Kuntz, 12, of Eagle.

Beermann Sweeps 22 Of 30 Counties

Conservative Republican Rep. Ralph Beermann won 22 of the First District's 30 counties in completing a GOP sweep of Nebraska's 3 Congressional seats.

In other races, Reps. Glenn Cunningham and Dave Martured 2-to-1 victories over challengers Thomas Bonner and John Hoffman.

Although Democrat Clair Callan pressed Beermann through most of the night, the Republican's margin steadily mounted through the morning hours.

Callan took a 4,600-vote bulge out of Lancaster County, far short of what he needed in Lincoln to offset Beermann's northern plurality.

Beermann, 50, Dakota City farmer and businessman, snared 16 of his 19 old Third District counties and half of the 10 southern counties contained in the old First District.

He also won Otoe, the only county lifted from the old Second District to form the reapportioned First.

Beermann piled up 3,000-ballot margins in both Dodge (Fremont) and Madison (Norfolk) Counties.

Callan, 42, Odell businessman and livestock raiser, won Butler, Gage, Jefferson, Saline, Seward, Thayer and Thurston in addition to Lancaster.

For Beermann, the victory handed him a second term and added brilliance to his rising political star.

Nebraska's delegation remained totally conservative with the re-election of Cunningham over a frankly liberal challenger in the Omaha-dominated Second, and Martin's easy romp out west.

Cunningham, 50, easily won a fourth term despite a Democratic registration dominance in Douglas County and in the face of a stiff challenge from Bonner, 39, Omaha University professor on leave.

Martin, 55, a Kearney lumberman and a doctrinaire conservative, rolled to a second term in his struggle with Hoffman, 35, a Clearwater grocer.

Man Held In Assault Case

Police Wednesday night were holding a 19-year-old Panama carpenter after he admitted a Tuesday night assault on a Lincoln housewife at 5244 Cleveland, Detective Lt. Merl Hesser said.

Officers had picked the man up at a Lincoln construction site on a warrant charging assault and battery of the 23-year-old woman.

Mrs. Roosevelt Dead After Extended Illness

By ARTHUR EVERETT

New York (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, 78, widow of the 32nd president of the United States and in her own right one of the world's outstanding women, died Wednesday night. Her heart failed under a burden of tuberculosis and anemia.

By coincidence, her death came exactly 30 years after she helped celebrate with her husband his election as president. She spent 12 New Deal years with him in the White House until his death in 1945.

President Kennedy headed a long list of mourners who paid tribute to the great lady. In a statement issued from the White House, he said:

"One of the great ladies in the history of this country has passed from the scene."

Controversive

Mrs. Roosevelt was as controversial as she was prominent. She inspired deep love and affection among friends and casual admirers. She brought down the wrath of others, including political foes of her late husband. But loved or despised, she was a woman too vital ever to be ignored.

Her interests were myriad. Almost no controversy escaped her attention—whether in international affairs or a domestic crisis involving civil rights.

Until she was hospitalized in September, Mrs. Roosevelt maintained an amazing pace, shuttling about the world on one errand after another. For a generation her travels had been a source of American humor, both good and ill-intentioned. She wrote and lectured, always on the go. Although not overly robust in appearance, she seemed to thrive on her merry-go-round pattern.

On Sept. 26, Mrs. Roosevelt entered Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, seemingly for a routine checkup. Actually, she had long suffered a lung infection and anemia and a family spokesman said Wednesday night tuberculosis was suspected from the start.

MRS. ROOSEVELT

The family spokesman said it was found 2½ years ago that she was suffereing from a complicated type of anemia.

"Vigorous anti-tuberculosis treatment had been started shortly after her admission to the hospital in September," said the spokesman. But although Mrs. Roosevelt responded partially to the treatment, her general condition worsened.

On Oct. 18, she was discharged to her Manhattan apartment at 55 East 74th St. Exactly a week later, a culture proved tuberculosis was the cause of her fever. She died at 6:15 p.m. EST Wednesday night.

Too Ill

She was too ill to take part in Tuesday's New York state election, although she had been instrumental in shaping the losing Democratic ticket. And her condition was such that she died without ever knowing the results.

At the time of her death a Roosevelt family spokesman said "her doctors were with her because of indications of cardiac failure."

The family granted permission for an autopsy. Its purpose was not immediately made clear.

However, the autopsy may have been scheduled in connection with Mrs. Roosevelt's action in 1954 in willing her eyes after death to an eye bank.

3 Children

With Mrs. Roosevelt besides her doctors were two sons, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., and John Roosevelt, and her daughter, Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Holdtedt.

Two other sons were flying to New York. They are Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., and Elliot Roosevelt, coming from Miami.

The body will be taken to the Roosevelt estate at Hyde Park, along the Hudson River above New York. Funeral arrangements were to be announced later. No one excpt the family will be allowed in the Hyde Park home.

In Washington, President Kennedy announced plans to attend the funeral.

Born Anna Eleanor Roosevelt Oct. 11, 1884, she was a member of the Oyster Bay branch of the Roosevelt family and a 5th cousin once removed of the boy who was to become her husband and the nation's only president to be elected 4 times.

Through her father, Elliott, she descended from early Dutch settlers and through her mother, the former Anna Hall, from Philip Livingston, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

A shy, retiring and, by her own description, "very plain child," she was orphaned at the age of 10 and was taken in by her grandmother.

Sent Abroad

At the age of 15, she was sent abroad to study at a school for girls in England, run by an elderly Frenchwoman, Mlle. Souvestre, who had taught her grandmother.

"This was my first taste of freedom," said Mrs. Roosevelt in later years.

She returned to the United States, made her debut in New York and acquired "a lasting distaste for formal society."

Courtship

Then came her courtship with her handsome young cousin, a student at Harvard. Her fiance's mother, Sara Delano Roosevelt, opposed the romance of her only child and upon his graduation arranged for a Caribbean cruise so he could think over the engagement. But the enforced separation failed in its purpose and Roosevelt's strong-willed mother reconciled herself to the courtship.

They were married on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, 1905, in the Manhattan apartment of her cousin.

O'Kelly's Interrogators Testify

. . . JUDGE SCHEELE TO RULE ON ADMISSIBILITY

By GERRY WRIGHT
Star Staff Writer

Three law enforcement officers testified Wednesday that Dennis O'Kelly related how he killed Barbara Eastman when they interrogated the defendant.

They quoted O'Kelly as saying that he couldn't remember the weapon used or what he did with it.

Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele heard this testimony in relation to a defense motion that O'Kelly's statements to the officers be suppressed.

The jury was excused from the courtroom during the proceedings.

If Judge Scheele rules the evidence is admissible, these witnesses will repeat their testimony to the jury Thursday in O'Kelly's second-degree murder trial.

Sawdon Testifies

Police Detective Capt. Robert Sawdon told the court that O'Kelly related the following story to him regarding the incidents surrounding Miss Eastman's death Aug. 4:

O'Kelly drove to Oak Lake with Barbara and told her that they were through and "she resisted his decision" and began crying.

She then came over to the driver's side of the car and attempted to put her arms around him.

According to Sawdon, O'Kelly said he shoved her against the car door on the passenger side at least twice and she "ran out of the car screaming and crying."

O'Kelly got out of the car and caught her and slapped her at least twice to "quiet her down," Sawdon said the defendant told him.

When this didn't quiet her, he "hit her with his fists, once, twice and possibly more." Then she "sort of fell down toward the front of me," Sawdon quoted O'Kelly as saying.

When she dropped to the ground, O'Kelly said he struck her with an item — exactly what he couldn't remember — and then picked her up and started carrying her toward the lake.

According to Sawdon O'Kelly said he then laid her down, and dragged her by the heels to the shore where he splashed water in her face because he "thought it might bring her to."

Sawdon testified that O'Kelly told him he rolled the girl's body into the lake "for the purpose of concealing" it, when it appeared she was dead.

Lt. Gerald Tesch of the State Safety Patrol and Police Detective Capt. Robert Butcher also related the same set of facts which they said O'Kelly had given them during questioning.

"I killed her, I know I killed her, but I don't know what I killed her with," Butcher quoted O'Kelly as saying.

Carroll To Testify

Police Chief Joseph Carroll will testify Thursday and the defense attorneys, Richard Vestecka and Michael Lazer, will argue their case against admitting the officers' testimony in evidence.

Charlene Williams, sister with whom Miss Eastman resided, and a brother, Alvin Eastman, testified before the jury Wednesday of Miss Eastman's activities Aug. 3. prior to her death.

They both said they had seen O'Kelly bring their sister home about 5:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 3, and said Miss Eastman told them he was going to pick her up later that night.

They said she left about 10:30 p.m., and although they didn't see her get into a car, they were positive she went with O'Kelly because she "never went out with any other boy" and she told them she was going out with him that night.

Nixon Bows Out Of Politics

. . . WITH BLAST AT PRESS

By JOE LEWIS

Beverly Hills, Calif. (AP)—An embittered Richard M. Nixon, his hopes for a political comeback in ruins, congratulated Gov. Edmund G. Brown Wednesday, bade farewell to public life, and in an angry denounciation of the press, told newsmen:

"You won't have Nixon to kick around any longer. Because this, gentlemen, is my last press conference."

The 49-year-old Republican former vice president, eyes swollen from lack of sleep and flashing anger, accused the press of distorting his statements.

In one breath, he said he had no complaints. Then he aired a few.

"Thank God for radio and TV," Nixon said through tightly compressed lips, "for keeping the newspapers a little more honest."

Nixon, who lost the 1960 presidential election by the narrowest of margins, lost his usual polished composure before newsmen and television cameras in the international ballroom of the Beverly Hilton:

Leveling his gaze at assembled reporters, he said:

"Never in my 16 years of campaigning have I complained about coverage to a publisher or an editor. I believe a reporter has a right to cover the news as he sees it. But I'll say to a reporter sometimes: 'I wish you had given my opponent the same going-over you gave me.'"

"For 16 Years . . . "

Later he told newsmen: "For 16 years, ever since the Hiss case, you've had a lot of fun, You've had an opportunity to attack me. I've given as good as I've taken . . . and I've had fun matching wits with you."

The defeat was the most shattering of Nixon's career. He never before had been beaten in 6 California elections, starting when he ran for Congress in 1946. He was re-elected in 1948, won a seat in the U.S. Senate in 1950, was nominated for vice president, at age 39, in 1952 and won election on the republican ticket with Dwight D. Eisenhower. He was re-elected vice president in 1956 and lost to John F. Kennedy by 110,000 votes in the 1960 presidential election.

Loser, Winner Compared

Nixon—a world figure, a polished debater, an adroit performer on television — lost to a man who was almost provincial, who stumbled over his syntax at times, yet could press palms, slap backs and chuck chins like the most formidable of campaigners.

In congratulating Gov. Brown, Nixon said: "He has the greatest honor and responsibility of any governor in the United States. I wish him well.

"I want it to be known that I never during the course of the campaign raised a personal reservation against my opponent . . . I never accused him of a lack of heart, a lack of patriotism.

Accuses Reporters

"You gentlemen didn't report that . . . that I defended him . . .

"For once, gentlemen, I would appreciate that you write what I said . . . and I mean that you get it in the lead. In the lead."

Brown, who watched Nixon on television, said:

"Nixon is going to regret all his life that he made that speech."

Richard Nixon holds "my last press conference."

NAVY WILL CHECK ON MISSILES

Washington (AP) — Russia has reported that ships are leaving Cuba with missiles aboard, the Defense Department announced Wednesday night. It said arrangements are being made for the Navy to check the number of dismantled missiles being shipped out.

This was reported by Arthur Sylvester, assistant defense secretary. A pentagon spokesman said it was probable the first contact between Navy ships and outbound ships from Cuba would be made Thursday.

Sylvester read the brief announcement to newsmen, saying he made it in behalf of the U.S. government.

Menon Booted

New Delhi, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru Wednesday banished V. K. Krishna Menon completely from India's war-troubled government.

Menon

Nehru told cheering members of his ruling Congress Party he would accept Menon's offer to resign as minister of defense production — the step-down post he took a week ago after his ouster as minister of defense. Nehru thus bowed to a storm of protests against Menon's handling of defense preparations to meet Red Chinese border attacks.

Nehru acted just as he got an offer of a deal from the communist Chinese to settle the undeclared war swirling on two points of India's Himalayan border. An Indian spokesman said, however, the Chinese were building up their forces in the two areas, apparently for new attacks.

GOP Gains In Big States

Washington (UPI — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was wrecked as a future GOP presidential possibility Wednesday by his defeat in California's do-or-die gubernatorial race.

While Nixon was sidelined, Gov. Nelson A. Rockeleffer, automaker George Romney and Rep. William W. Scranton loomed brightly as 1964 Republican presidential hopefuis on the strength of convincing governorship victories in key states.

Unofficial returns showed Democrats and Republicans trading successful governorship raids in a dozen states in Tuesday's voting, with some stunning upsets. But if the latest figures held up, the nationwide lineup would remain the same with 34 Democratic governors and 16 Republicans.

Only 3 races remained undecided, plus a cliff-hanger finish in Massachusetts where the Republican incumbent conceded defeat early Wednesday but pulled up fast in late counting. Democratic incumbents were leading in Rhode Island and Alaska and Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen was defending a ever-narrowing lead against Democrat Karl Rolvaag in Minnesota. In one of the last to be decided, Democratic Gov. William L. Guy won out over GOP nominee Mark Andrews in North Dakota.

Although each party apparently captured 6 governorships from the other, the GOP claimed an advantage with victories in such key states as Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Oklahoma as well as in Colorado and Wyoming.

Ousted

Democrats ousted a Republican governor in Iowa and apparently in Massachusetts but their other gains were in less populous states such as New Hampshire, New Mexico, Vermont and Hawaii.

The victories of Scranton, a 45-year-old first term congressman, in Pennsylvania and political newcomer Romney, 55, in Michigan left them squarely alongside Rockefeller as 1964 GOP potentials. Rockefeller, 54, won handily over Democrat Robert M. Morgenthau but his margin was less than his supporters hoped for and failed to gain him a dominant front runner's role among party possibilities.

The undecided Rhode Island race hinged on 7,000 absentee ballots which will not be counted until some time next week. Unofficial returns from all precincts gave Democratic Gov. John A. Notte, Jr., a hairline lead of 166 votes with 160,734 to 160,568 for Republican Challenger John H. Chafee.

In Alaska, where counting was slow and difficult, Democratic Gov. William A. Egan was leading Republican Mike Stepovich, a former territorial governor of the 49th state.

The GOP counted Ohio as a major gain alongside Pennsylvania and Michigan. Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle was beaten roundly by Republican State Auditor John A. Rhodes but went down hard, firing off a bitter statement against the GOP victor.

Big Upset

Republican Henry Bellmon, a 41-year-old wheat grower, pulled a stunning upset over Democrat W. P. Bill Atkinson to become Oklahoma's first GOP governor in history. In Colorado, Republican newcomer John A. Love unseated veteran Democratic Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols in another surprise.

In Massachusetts, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy's whopping senate victory apparently helped Democrat Endicott (Chub) Peabody, onetime Harvard all-American, roll ahead of Republican Gov. John A. Volpe, but a last minute surge by Volpe left the race in doubt to the end.

Voters Settle Questions

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

It is always a relief to get up in the morning the day after election and know that all the questions of the day before have been answered. The day after Tuesday's election undoubtedly found Gov. Frank Morrison one of the happiest men in the state. His victory over GOP hopeful Fred Seaton of Hastings was different in some respects from his victory of two years ago over another Republican candidate but it was equally if not more impressive.

Morrison had just about as much going against him as any candidate can have and still manage to win. He ran with a party that is hopelessly divided, he obviously had fewer funds at his command than did his opponent, he faced a strong registration factor against him and he battled what the Republican party must admit was one of the strongest candidates they could have obtained. He received no help from any other portion of the ticket as the GOP won rather handily in the three House races, throughout the rest of the state ticket and almost unanimously at the county level.

Winning The Hard Way

There can be no question that Morrison's victory is a very personal one and places him at the height of his political career. How he won as he did will never be known for certain as one cannot get an explanation of all the many votes cast in the contest. A number of things, however, can be listed as important factors. On the positive side, the governor is unquestionably a more able campaigner than was Seaton.

Too, Governor Morrison has been traveling this state as the governor for two years now and in doing so greatly broadened the individual voter support a candidate needs to have. On top of this is the natural tendency of people to give a governor a second term if they find no special reason to vote against him. Obviously, they considered in this case that what Morrison has accomplished in two years is good enough for them.

In the political arena, the governorship race will have some important repercussions. Seaton's loss cannot help but weaken the GOP. While Seaton's campaign left something to be desired, he was a strong candidate from many other points of view. It is believed that Seaton was hurt and Morrison helped by conservative Republicans who might well have abandoned their party's candidate at the polls. Nor was Seaton given any help by either of the two GOP senators, Carl Curtis and Roman Hruska. Still, the party would have had a difficult time rounding up any more formidable candidate, which may give Morrison an aura of invincibility for a good many years.

For the Democratic party, the situation is still cloudy but it is a good guess that Morrison has now won his battle with Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle of Omaha. Morrison had already beaten Boyle in a number of head-on clashes but still has not gained official control of the party in Nebraska. It would be surprising if he were not able to do this within the next two years or if he declined to do it. His intentions in regard to party matters are unknown, of course, but if the party is to achieve much in the future, it will need more than just a winning single candidate here and there. The party is in desperate need of good organization and this is what is likely to begin happening now with Morrison as the focal point.

This does not mean that all the problems of the party have now been solved. That faction of the party which is unfriendly to Morrison will stay that way but it will find great difficulty prevailing against a winning candidate. Regardless of all the by-play of politics, the thing that speaks the loudest is victory at the polls.

The final and most important question of all in the wake of Tuesday's balloting is what about the future of Nebraska? It is not believed that Morrison will provide dynamic leadership but his next two years should be solidly constructive. With the financial pinch placed on state operations two years ago by the Legislature, there may well be a legislative mood in 1963 to move more aggressively.

This would provide the governor an opportunity to see marked progress made in education, in highway construction, in tourism, in agricultural research, in institutional matters and in many other fields of importance to the state. The election on a state basis in other areas is little other now than record. The election of Rep. Ralph Beermann in this First District of Congress over Clair Callan is a substantial disappointment to many people but not very unexpected. Beermann is expected to change none in his ultra-conservative attitude which will net his district and the state nothing but his election is a fact which cannot be argued with.

Stage Set For Progress

Endorsement of all seven constitutional amendments will, in general, provide for improved government or at least the possibility of it. The area representation issue has now been settled at the polls but it is likely that the matter will not be rested until it has passed a final court test, possibly even the U.S. Supreme Court. It is now the job of all Nebraskans to build the state as best they can within the letter as well as the spirit of Tuesday's decisions.

Form Of Government Changes

Somewhat surprising is the comfortable margin of victory given by Lincoln voters Tuesday to a new form of government for the city. On the books now and to be inaugurated next summer is a full-time mayor form of government for Lincoln. The change is basically one of housekeeping but it is still a significant change.

It is, for one thing, a mark of Lincoln's maturity and as such is as much a harbinger of trying times as of better days. The change was advocated on the grounds that Lincoln was of such a size as to demand a more centralized leadership, that its problems were becoming too great to be dealt with on the part-time basis that has been a pattern of the past.

The voters showed their agreement with this idea. They showed their feeling that Lincoln is growing to such an extent that it needs an administrative focal point where responsibility can be fixed and where leadership can function. Thus, it was recognized that there are many problems ahead for the city and their solution will not come easily, even with the new form of government. But it can be assumed that the electorate has shown a willingness to tackle these problems head-on.

Of vital importance now is the filling of the full-time mayor post with a qualified candidate. It is hoped that the League of Women Voters pursues this objective with the same vigor with which it fought for the change in form. While the new system we have is an improvement, its potential will not be realized unless it is given life through the candidates that seek the office of mayor. Lincoln now has the tools it needs to meet the future and now needs only to master the use of those tools.

Timely Example

Tuesday found the United States living it up as a highly successful democracy.

World tensions, a Cuban crisis and domestic problems had no dampening effect on popular expression. The voters had their day. There was the healthy note that democratic processes rank first in this nation. This should have a tonic effect on other nations determined on the democratic way of life but having trouble bringing it about.

Friend and neighbor Argentina is one such. Plagued lately by political and military coups, it was unable to get around to free elections. The best it was able to do was to set October 27, 1963, as the earliest target date for its national elections. The state of political affairs there does not permit an earlier date.

Even setting the date a year hence will not guarantee the restoration of full democratic procedures. The provisional government dare not release the reins until there is real evidence of political stability. Bitter factionalism will have to be resolved. The predominant political mergers will have to exhibit reasonable assurance of security for free elections.

Democracy is in a shaky position in Brazil. It is under attack in Venezuela. Popular expression still reigns in India but the war clouds in the high Himalayas raise the question of "How long?"

Certainly these anguished countries can take fresh hope from the sight of our own democratic achievement. We have not only met our political problems in the traditional manner, we have given testimony to the free world as well—very timely testimony.

Intimation Of The Future

Out of the cloud of now-spent votes, cast in Tuesday's national elections, there is emerging the outlines of the country's political form in the immediate years ahead.

The Republican party fell short of its urgent need, but in its failure it was rewarded by tokens of hope.

The Democratic party successfully defended and extended the term of its heavy command of Congress. But the success of the party does not necessarily contribute to better fortune for the administration's New Frontier. The liberal—conservative division in the House where the New Frontier has had its hardest going seems to have been little changed. It is true that the New Frontier picked up two stout champions in Senator Ribicoff, of Connecticut, and Senator Ted Kennedy, of Massachusetts, but both will be freshmen with the limited influence that is allotted to newcomers.

The hardest blows to Republican fortunes were two. The party was unable to make the gains normally expected in an off-year election. This failure guaranteed the predominant Democrats an unimpaired command until 1966, two years beyond the next presidential election. To disappointed Republicans there is the poignant evidence that theirs is a minority party mostly confined to localized successes.

But their successes could be significant. The Republicans kept New York State. They recovered important governorships in Michigan and Pennsylvania. The winners there are of a new mold, fresh figures to the public, and portrayers of a new and more progressive Republican image. With the departure of the last of the Eisenhower political heirs and the widespread rejection of the Capehart-Judd type, the Republicans may have unearthed the sort of leadership that will make the restoration.

Chinese Tirade Aimed At Tito

WASHINGTON — In view of increasing dissension reported inside the Communist world, it is important to study a recent blast delivered by the Chinese Reds against Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia as a result of an interview Tito gave me on his Adriatic summer island, Brioni, last August.

The Chinese Reds apparently waited some time to get a full copy of this interview and have been boiling over it ever since. Finally they launched a 5,000-word blast against Tito — in an editorial in the People's Daily of Peking. The editorial was then broadcast over the Peking radio and was picked up by U.S. monitoring services from whom I obtained a copy.

What it says about Tito is worse than what Congressman Otto Passman of Louisiana, or H. Carl Anderson of Minnesota, or various presidents have said about me.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Tito gave a long interview to American correspondent, Drew Pearson," says the Chinese editorial. "U.S. monopoly capital attaches much importance to this interview and published it in 250 U.S. newspapers. (Actually around 600 papers.)

"In his interview with Pearson, this renegade Tito has taken another step 'forward.' He openly advertised the need to effect the 'economic integration' and 'political integration' of the world, and asked his master, U.S. imperialism, to use 'economic and democratic methods' to cope with certain infiltration or aggression in a broad sense by Communism."

Note — This should be interesting to Rep. Wilbur Mills (D., Ark.), who as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee went out of his way to kill the long-standing trade treaty between the United States and Yugoslavia giving it most-favored nation treatment. President Kennedy had urged Mills not to do this, on the ground that Yugoslavia was leaning our way but Mills ignored the President's advice. As a result, Yugoslavia now is seeking closer trade ties with Moscow.

☆ ☆ ☆

The worst word you can call anyone in the communist world is a "revisionist." This means that you have revised the creed of Karl Marx. Khrushchev has been called a revisionist by Chinese leaders because he has urged a doctrine of coexistence instead of the inevitability of war between capitalism and communism.

Here is the vitriolic poison the Red Chinese poured into their press and onto their airwaves against "Revisionist" Tito.

"The interview with Pearson glaringly shows up the features of the modern revisionists of Yugoslavia as renegades. By its words and deeds the Tito group proves to the world how degraded modern revisionists have become and how much more degraded they will become in the future."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Aid Agency Due For Remaking

WASHINGTON — A large slate of unfinished business is on President Kennedy's desk presumably to be tackled once the election—and Cuba — are out of the way.

The prolonged session of Congress, the campaigning to which the President had committed himself and finally the all-absorbing crisis on the brink of nuclear war have left the normal problems piled up high. So swiftly have the days passed that less than two months remain before a new Congress is back, and in this interval large budgetary questions, particularly on defense, must be resolved.

The President was warned by his congressional leadership before they departed that the entire foreign aid program would have to be reshaped. Having squeaked through in reduced form, a similar indiscriminate program would fail the next time, he was told. So both the approach and the personnel seem certain to undergo drastic revision.

☆ ☆ ☆

It is likely that Fowler Hamilton will resign as administrator for the Agency for International Development (AID) before the end of the year. As a lawyer skilled in making a case for a client, Hamilton has not been happy as administrator of the unwieldly agency, which is a patchwork of legacies out of the past. His unhappiness is rather widely shared within the Kennedy administration.

Two names have been under discussion as possible successors. One is Sargent Schriver, who has made the Peace Corps an outstanding success. Treated as a joke at the beginning, it has won the widest possible support at home and abroad so that opposition in Congress dwindled to a few diehards.

The second name is that of Chester Bowles, who was removed as under secretary of state to be made adviser to the President on underdeveloped areas. While this was considered at the time as hardly more than a face-saver, Bowles in the past year has proved his usefulness. His memorandum outlining a new and more discriminating approach to foreign aid got wide and on the whole favorable attention.

He was saying, in effect, that the shotgun method of spraying help everywhere was demonstrably wasteful and self-defeating. It should be possible, he suggested, to establish categories under which country "A" or country "B" would be eligible — or ineligible — for a particular kind and degree of help from this country. What is important, too, although Bowles did not point it out, is to have an administrator with a broad understanding of the whole field and a sympathy for the objectives of the program tempered with a knowledge of what can be achieved.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a tattoo that was put on my arm (my ex-husband's name) more than 20 years ago. How can I have it removed without a skin graft? I know I was foolish. I have been advised to consult a dermatologist. Is that right? —L.M.

Yes. Consult a dermatologist (skin specialist) to determine whether your ex-husband's name can be obliterated by a process called "skin planing" or "dermabrasion," or by re-tattooing with flesh colors.

If neither of these methods is suitable in your case, a skin graft may be the only recourse.

Incidentally, a tattoo needle which has not been thoroughly sterilized can transmit disease from one person to another. Hepatitis is one of the dangers, syphilis is another.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: I have lost my sense of taste, and everything I eat is the same. I have a thyroid condition and acute bronchitis and am taking a high content of potassium iodide for the cough. Could this be the reason? — M.D.B.

Yes, large doses of iodides sometimes can cause loss of taste. "Taste" however is a subtle combination of factors. A restaurant man I know successfully follows a rule of "feed the eyes first." It's literally true, he says, that things can "look so good you can almost taste them."

Dr. Molner

Aroma has a great deal to do with flavor. Your "sense of taste" is impaired if you have a hard cold. Either infection or polyps in the nose can have this effect.

Less commonly, disorders of the nerves to the tongue can affect taste. Basically there are only four "tastes," sweet, sour, salty and bitter and sometimes a "metallic taste" is added.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: What food or drink contains Vitamin K? — M.M.L.

Vitamin K, important in blood clotting and hence in healing of wounds, is plentiful in spinach, tomatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, peas.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: Can all cataracts be removed, and can you see afterward? — M.B.

Yes, to both questions — barring some complication not involved in the cataract itself. Cataract is a term meaning that the lens in the eye has become so cloudy that it shuts off much or most of the light.

Keep in mind, however, that removing the cataract will not help vision if some other defect has impaired the retina or the optic nerve. Your doctor can determine this in advance.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Mr. Molner: About twice a week I drink a glass of hot water with a heaping teaspoon of baking soda, as an aid in the relief of constipation. Is the soda harmful in any way? — B.S.

It probably doesn't hurt you the way you use it, but it should not be tried by anyone on a low-salt diet, because there's as much sodium in the soda as there is in salt. I'm not sure that it does any good in relieving constipation, either.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: A friend has a hernia in the esophagus and sometimes has difficulty swallowing. Can this hernia become enlarged, and if so would it ever become cancerous? —A.R.F.

Hernias, whether of the esophagus or elsewhere, do not become cancerous. Cancer of the esophagus does occur, but not because of any connection with a hernia.

Yes, a hernia there (or anywhere else) can become worse. Hernias don't get better by themselves.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: I have what appear to be corns on the bottom of my feet. How can I get rid of them? — Mrs. D. S.

Corns are the result of abnormal pressure. To get rid of them and stay rid of them, removal of the pressure is necessary. Sometimes wider or longer shoes are the basic answer. Somes arch support is necessary. But in your case, a more important first question is whether these are corns, or are something else, such as plantar warts which form on the sole. I'd see a podiatrist (foot specialist) or orthopedist, or your personal physician to find out exactly what kind of a "corn" is bothering you.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Doctor: I've heard of arthritis, neuritis and rheumatism, but what do I have? I'm only 14 and I often get a terrible pain in my shoulder. It started about eight months ago and most often comes when I sit still a long time as in church or assembly in school, or when I have a heavy coat on for a long time. — H.K.

If it were arthritis or rheumatism it would be in the joints and worsen with motion; if neuritis, in the nerves, and it would be persistent and muscular areas. It could be bursitis, too.

Since it comes only when you sit a long time and are feeling bored, or under a strain, let's guess it's muscle spasm or just plain tenseness. Some of us at 14 noticed that an equal amount of sitting at a movie or football game never caused the pain!

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers questions in his column whenever possible.

Path Of Progress

Anselmo, Neb.

How does anyone know what is foolish and what is wise? Some of us say that trying to get to the moon is just plain foolishness. When Admiral Perry failed in attempting to reach the North Pole and lost some of his men, some called that foolish.

There were those who thought that it was never intended for man to fly. When the Wright brothers were working on their airplane, they approached a banker for a loan. He said he would advance them the money but that it pained him to see a couple of bright young men wasting time on something like that when they could be doing something worthwhile. He added that no one was ever going to be able to fly.

There was a great controversy when our country was proposing to establish public schools. One governor was violently opposed to it, saying it was foolishness trying to educate all children, rich and poor alike. Who then would do the work, he wanted to know. It was his contention that those who were financially able should send their children to England for an education, which would furnish us with plenty of educated people.

When Christopher Columbus got the idea that this world was round and that one could get east by sailing west, most people thought he was foolish enough to be locked up. But he finally got a queen to finance his expedition and thus America was discovered.

Now, perhaps we need to find something else.

Thank You

O'Neill, Neb.

I wish to thank The Lincoln Star for the very fine news coverage afforded the 22nd annual conference of the Nebraska Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts which was held in Valentine, Nebraska. The continued support of the resource programs in Nebraska by The Star has been most instrumental in the success of these programs. At the present time, Nebraska is looked upon as being one of the leading states in the nation in the field of soil and water conservation. This choice of leadership could never have been obtained without the active support of all news media of this state.

Our thanks also to Glenn Kreuscher, farm editor, for the assistance which he rendered to us during our annual conference.

The Reprieve

Lincoln, Neb.

After a week of almost unbearable tension and anxiety as the world teetered on the brink of a nuclear war, we have been granted a reprieve. How we use this reprieve may well make the difference between survival and non-survival of our country as we know it, as well as for ourselves, as individuals living "under the bomb."

The fact that the direct confrontation of the US and the USSR did not lead to thermonuclear war demonstrates the essential role which the United Nations and its dedicated secretary-general play in the struggle to keep peace in the world.

Both Kennedy and Khrushchev have announced their willingness to negotiate their differences under United Nations' auspices. We as citizens should give President Kennedy full support in this crucial period of reprieve since he has indicated this readiness to explore fresh paths to peace.

Here may be an opportunity to negotiate a mutually advantageous military disengagement and territorial disarmament not only in Cuba but also in Turkey and elsewhere which would be of tremendous significance in reversing the present arms race and also be a first vital step in general and complete disarmament.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Elders Should Beware Of Easy-Money Schemes

By ROBERT PETERSON

A number of ads these days dangle the hope of easy-money for retired people. Here's one that's been running for years in various magazines. It says, "MAILMAN BRINGS US $150 DAILY. Ideal Mail Order Business for Retired People. Write for information."

When I answered the ad, a letter by return mail assured me that the secrets of mail order success could be mine by ordering 4 books which had a regular value of $10.96, but which, if I hurried would cost only $5.00.

So I sent in the money and the 4 books are now before me. They are actually mimeographed brochures, and, while they are put together rather well. I doubt if they have ever enabled anyone to turn his mailman into a money tree.

The first brochure gives general data about the mail-order industry. The next one gives case stories of folks who have purportedly made big money by ordering such items as cigarette lighters and salt-and-pepper shakers from manufacturers and reselling them by mail.

Another book tells you how to make up letters and mailing pieces describing what you've got to sell. And the last book lists companies here and abroad from which you can presumably buy items at wholesale, for resale to mail order customers.

It is conceivable that this information might assist a determined, aggressive soul in launching a successful mail-order business. But I think the promoter is guilty of misrepresentation and gross exaggeration in suggesting in his ad that this is an ideal occupation for retired people.

The mail-order business has become an enormously competitive and difficult field, peopled with brainy specialists who know its intricacies, have plenty of financing, and harbor a firm grasp on advertising pricing, and distribution principles. The average retired couple seeking to compete with these boys hasn't much of a chance.

It wasn't so many years ago that the well-heeled were content to spend their vacations at home or at nearby resorts. If they had seen Europe once, and if they were able to take a trip across the country every few years, they were satisfied.

But these days everyone seems intrigued by travel—big travel. At this moment I have acquaintances who are enjoying autumn vacations at thrift rates in such far-flung places as Greece, Russia, Japan, and Hawaii.

They're not rich, but they've saved their pennies and are intent on seeing the world. Their motivation is probably influenced by the fact that big travel has become something of a status symbol. If you didn't just get back from Russia, or if you're not making plans to leave for Japan, you're just not in tune with the jet age.

Vote Solid For All 7 Amendments

. . . Only 4-Year Term For Governor, Close; All Win Necessary 35% Of Total

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Nebraskans added 7 more amendments to their state constitution Tuesday with voters approving—emphatically in most cases—all of the proposals placed on the ballot by the 1961 Legislature.

Only Amendment Number 4 which gives 4-year terms to Nebraska governors and lieutenant governors beginning in 1966 had a relatively tight race.

But it also met the constitutional requirements for adoption by receiving a majority of the votes cast on the proposal, as well as 35% of the total vote cast in the general election.

The remainder of the proposals won by handy margins, and one of them—Amendment Number One authorizing participation in lotteries and gift enterprises—won by a thumping margin of more than 4 to 1.

Several of the changes adopted will have far-reaching effects upon the complexion of each branch of government — executive, legislative and judicial.

Chief among these will be greater continuity in government—an effect shared by all 3 branches through adoption of 4-year terms for the governor and lieutenant governor; 4-year terms for members of the Legislature who will be elected on a staggered basis, and the merit plan for selecting judges—a combination of the appointive and elective methods.

Another change in the executive branch is the authorization to increase membership of the State Railway Commission up to 7 members who will be elected by districts, rather than at large.

Another significant change, politically, is approval of the amendment which now will allow the lieutenant governor to become a candidate for the office of governor during the term to which he is elected.

The seventh amendment—giving area a weight factor in reapportionment of the Legislature—won by a comfortable margin.

Just Too Much?

Memphis (AP) — The machine age is just too much for some people. A man here swears he witnessed this scene on an automatic elevator at a hospital. A woman got on the elevator, said "Let's see, I want room 1126," and proceeded to push buttons 11, 2 and 6.

5 Named To Business Administration Group

Five University of Nebraska seniors in business administration were named Wednesday to Beta Gamma Sigma, highest scholastic honor in their field, as a part of a business careers conference at the University.

The students are: Thais Beams, Aubrey A. Becker and Linda A. Watson, all of Lincoln; W. Grant Gregory of Tabor, Ia.; and Edwin P. Metzner, of New York City.

The 5 students rank in the upper 4 per cent of their class and the honor is similar to membership in Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

At the conference, W. W. Cook Sr., president of the Beatrice National Bank, told the students bankers are part of of the linemen on the private enterprise team.

"They're people who help private individuals and private companies keep the economy rolling forward," Cook said. "For that reason banking is one of the key enterprises in our free economy."

The afternoon lecture sessions featured outside authorities in retailing, management, sales, banking, industrial relations, utilities, government, accounting and insurance.

Reapportionment Goes To Legislature Before Further Federal Court Action

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Next stop for the area legislative reapportionment constitutional amendment en route to its final examination by the U.S. District Court is the 1963 Legislature.

The amendment was approved by Nebraska voters as the first step in its 3-phase countdown.

Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth has promised to introduce a bill in the coming Unicameral session to reapportion the Legislature on a basis of 25% weight for area.

The amendment provides for 20% to 30% consideration for area, upsetting the traditional state constitutional requirement of representation soley on a basis of population.

Ruhnke, chief sponsor of the amendment and the man who spearheaded support for its approval at the polls, has also said he will be "favorable" to increasing the Legislature's membership from 43 to 49.

Meanwhile, the U.S. District Court will be watching with interest.

The 3-judge tribunal indicated in its decision on the recent reapportionment suit that it will consider constitutional questions raised by the amendment after its application by the Legislature.

The court at that time raised questions as the constitutionality of the area weight provision and another section of the amendment allowing the Legislature to redistrict on lines other than county boundaries.

Indicating that it will wait to examine the amendment until the Legislature acts, the court noted:

"We have . . . an amendment which, if adopted, will require action by the Legislature. We can at this time only speculate on what form any such action will take.

"Circumstances can exist, assuming the principle of area weighting is valid, where 30% area weight might perhaps be discriminatory and 20% area weighting might perhaps not be held discriminatory."

Population of its present districts varies from 19,000 to more than 100,000 — a 530% disparity which the court termed "substantial."

The Unicameral has not been reapportioned since its formation in 1935.

Strong Mayor Plan Approved By 2,506-Vote Margin

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Lincoln charter amendment providing for a full-time mayor and 7-member council was approved by a 2,506-vote majority in the complete, unofficial tabulation Wednesday of the city's 113 voting precincts.

The largest referendum vote in the city's history backed the charter change by a vote of 18,577 to 16,071 at the polls Tuesday.

A possible 1,030 absentee ballots remain to be counted in the official canvass beginning Friday, but the number cannot change the election results.

Some Abstain

While two-thirds of Lincoln's registered voters went to the polls, nearly 1 in 8 voters did not cast a ballot on the amendment.

The Star's check showed a total city vote of 39,537 in the state general election. There were 34,648 votes cast on the charter amendment, leaving 4,925 voters by-passing the special ballot.

Under the full-time mayor plan amendment, the mayor and 4 councilmen will be elected to 4-year terms in the May city general election and take office May 20.

Three councilmen with holdover terms will be elected in 1965.

Terms of 3 present councilmen run until 1965.

The mayor will become Lincoln's full-time chief executive with full responsibility for the administration of city affairs and supervision of the various departments.

Retain Power

The council, whose membership is increased by one to 7, will retain full power to make all laws, set policy and control the city budget and expenditures.

In the amendment's separation of executive and legislative functions, the mayor will preside at council meetings but have no vote except to break ties. He will have veto power, but this can be overridden by a simple council majority.

The mayor's salary, set by council, must exceed that of the highest-paid department head, which currently is $12,800. Councilman pay is doubled to $20 per regular meeting attended.

While the charter amendment goes into effect upon official certification of referendum vote, the form of government does not change until May 20. The amendment does not extend the present powers of city government.

The full-time mayor plan amendment was sponsored by the Lincoln League of Women Voters.

Mrs. James H. Weber, its president, said Wednesday the league "is pleased that the full-time mayor plan has been approved by Lincoln voters."

"We are most grateful for the cooperation and support given us during the campaign. We feel that study, education and, finally, decision by the voters are the major steps in democracy."

She said the league is "proud to have participated with Lincoln in this democratic experience."

Mayor Pat Boyles, who actively supported the charter amendment, said he "was pleased that it passed."

"It can do some real good for the city of Lincoln," the mayor added. "I am sure the plan will attract capable and qualified candidates."

Mayor Boyles, who was nominated to his first term by a surprise write-in vote and re-elected to a second term without opposition, has expressed no personal interest in the full-time mayor job, but has not removed himself from consideration as a possible candidate.

Gresham Stockholders Given Nov. 15 Deadline

Lincoln Star Special

York—Stockholders of the Gresham State Bank Wednesday night were given until Nov. 15 to determine if they can salvage any appreciable amount of the more than $500,000 shortage in the bank's accounts.

State Banking Director Ralph Misko said the stockholders were given a list of depositors who had been permitted to write insufficient fund checks, the number of checks, and the amounts.

Misko said more than 70 persons had written over 14,000 insufficient fund checks totalling more than $500,000 during a period of more than 30 years.

One individual, the banking director said, had written more than 3,000 checks for about $122,000 over a long period of time.

Harry Hylton and David Yung were named as a stockholder committee to contact depositors to determine what can be salvaged from these accounts.

The stockholders must then determine the shortage to be made up if the bank is reorganized.

Misko said the Banking Department has given the stockholders until Nov. 15 to report on their determination. If reorganization is not possible, the bank will go into receivership, Misko said.

Misko said some stockholders thought a considerable amount could be salvaged from the insufficient fund accounts, others felt the effort would be fruitless, and the majority seemed to feel reorganization "would be rather difficult."

The shortage in the bank's funds, which were not federally insured, was discovered last month after a bank official took his own life as a state bank examiner arrived

Man Not Injured When His Truck And Train Collide

Charles W. Latzel, 36, of 1172 Furnas, was not injured when the truck he was driving and a freight train collided Wednesday noon.

The collision happened at the railroad crossing on Park Blvd., between South St. and Van Dorn.

Latzel said he saw the train, but didn't think he could stop, so he speeded up to avoid the collision.

The train hit the box of the truck, spun the truck around and turned it over, dumping a load of shingles onto the street and the ditch, police said.

Police estimated the damage at $100 to the truck and the same amount to the train.

Lloyd Fletche, 62, of Beatrice was the engineer on the train.

Castro Acts Like He Will Stand Firm On 5-Point Demands

Havana (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro implied in an anniversary message to Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev that Cuba remains adamant on United States acceptance of its 5-point demands for a settlement of the Caribbean crisis.

The demands include U.S. evacuation of its Guantanamo base.

Cuba "carries forth as its standard the 5 points which will guarantee our peoples a peace with dignity," Castro said in a cable to Khrushchev that pledged "unbreakable Cuban-Soviet friendship."

The message indicated that Khrushchev's envoy to Cuba, Anastas Mikoyan, has failed in 4 meetings with Castro to get the Cuban leader to abandon the demands which the United States refuses to consider.

(In Moscow, foreign newsmen found Khrushchev unwilling to discuss Mikoyan's mission to Havana. Asked when Mikoyan would return to Moscow, Khrushchev snapped, "When he does, he will announce it." The reply indicated it was a sensitive issue.)

May Soon Depart

A usually well informed diplomatic source in Havana said there were indications Mikoyan is preparing to leave for Moscow soon. He did not elaborate on the statement. However, a Tass dispatch from Moscow said Cuba had agreed with the Soviet Union to international inspection at Sea of cargoes outbound from Cuba.

The Castro message, also signed by President Osvaldo Dorticos, went to Khrushchev and Soviet President Leonid I. Breshnev.

It said the "Cuban peoples and government" pledge "renewed faith" in the principles of Marxism-Leninism on the occasion of the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

The Cuban position in regard to the Soviet-U.S. talks — "even at the gates of a thermonuclear war" — is the only factor that can impede the rebirth of the war danger, Castro said.

Foreign Darling

In Moscow, Cuba emerged as the foreign darling of the anniversary celebrations in Red Square. Khrushchev indicated to foreign correspondents at an anniversary dinner that Castro had stiffly opposed his decision to withdraw Soviet missiles from Cubs.

(Khrushchev admitted that the Soviet Union had put 40 rockets on the Caribbean island "for the defense of Cuba," but belittled their importance. He said they had been dismantled "and are probably already on the way back.")

In Havana, Cuban government officials turned out en masse for Soviet anniversary celebrations although, curiously, neither Fidel nor Raul Castro was present.

A Tass news agency dispatch from Moscow said neither of the Castro brothers attended Tuesday night's bargaining session with Mikoyan, leading to belief they were out of Havana.

Red China Talks It up

Tokyo (UPI) — Communist China reaffirmed its support of Fidel Castro in a series of speeches and editorials that challenged the Soviet Union to prove its leadership of international communism by defending Cuba against American threats.

The statements were broadcast in observance of the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution. Ironically, the criticism of the Soviet in the Cuban affair followed "solidarity" messages exchanged by Communist chief Mao Tze-tung and Premier Khrushchev.

Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi, speaking at a reception in Peiping given by Soviet Ambassador S. V. Chervonenko implied that the Soviet should not have agreed to dismantle and withdraw its missile bases from Cuba.

Decorators Elect Merle E. Farmer Group President

Members of the Nebraska Council of the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America Wednesday re-elected Merle E. Farmer, of 1134 Stillwater, president.

Farmer

Elected along with Farmer for 1963-64 were Pat Patrick of Columbus, vice president; Robert Gantz of Omaha, treasurer; and Miss Gertrude Maurer of Omaha, secretary.

The 3-day convention was the 40th of the council's annual meetings.

Some Highlights Of Tuesday's Election By States

By The Associated Press

Here are highlights of Tuesday's elections:

CALIFORNIA

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown wrecked Richard M. Nixon's hopes for a political comeback, winning a second term with a substantial defeat of the Republican former vice president.

NEW YORK

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller easily won a second term but failed to run up the 800,000 to one million vote margin over Democrat Robert M. Morgenthau that his supporters had predicted. The poorer than expected showing could hurt Rockefeller's chances of becoming the GOP presidential nominee in 1964.

MICHIGAN

Former automaker George Romney became Michigan's first Republican governor in 14 years. He piled up a heavy plurality, defeating Democratic incumbent John B. Swainson, and strengthened his role as a possible 1964 Republican presidential contender.

ALABAMA

Sen. Lister Hill, Democrat, finally edged out Republican James D. Martin in a tight race that went down to the wire. It will be Hill's fifth term.

PENNSYLVANIA

Freshman Rep. William W. Scranton rocketed into GOP presidential contender ranks with an impressive defeat of former Philadelphia Mayor Richardson Dilworth in the governor's race. James A. Michener, Pulitzer Prize-winning writer, lost his bid for a House seat.

MASSACHUSETTS

Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, 30, won the Senate seat once held by his brother, President John F. Kennedy, in a landslide victory over Republican George Cabot Lodge and independent H. Stuart Hughes.

INDIANA

Republican Homer Capehart, who has been in the Senate since 1944, was ousted by Democrat Birch E. Bayh Jr., speaker of the Indiana House.

WISCONSIN

Democratic Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson ousted veteran Alexander A. Wiley, 78, from the Senate seat he has held since 1938—the longest Senate service of any Republican.

MINNESOTA

Walter H. Judd, 64, spellbinding keynoter of the 1960 Republican national convention, lost his House seat to Democrat Donald M. Fraser.

ILLINOIS

Everett M. Dirksen, the Republican Senate leader, finally won a third term over 7-term Democratic Congressman Sidney R. Yates after trailing for 7 hours.

OKLAHOMA

Wheat farmer Henry Bellmon became Oklahoma's first Republican governor, defeating millionaire builder W. P. (Bill) Atkinson, the Democratic candidate.

OHIO

Republican State Auditor James A. Rhodes cut down Democratic incumbent Michael V. DiSalle in the governor's race. Robert Taft Jr., son of the late senator and a grandson of President William Howard Taft, won a seat in Congress.

VERMONT

Under dog Philip H. Hoff became Vermont's first Democratic governor in 108 years, defeating Gov. F. Ray Keyser Jr.

NEW HAMPSHIRE

Normally Republican New Hampshire elected Democratic State Rep. John W. King governor—the state's first of that party in 40 years. A split in GOP ranks helped King's campaign.

CONNECTICUT

President Kennedy's former Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff defeated Horace Seely-Brown Jr., Republican congressman, in Connecticut's Senate race.

KENTUCKY

Thruston B. Morton, former GOP national chairman, defeated Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt, a former national housing expediter, and won a second Senate term.

MARYLAND

Rogers C. B. Morton, brother of the Kentucky senator, added a second family victory with defeat of Democratic Rep. Thomas F. Johnson in a House race. Johnson had been indicted on charges of taking money to intercede with Justice Department officials in a mail fraud case.

ARIZONA

Carl Hayden, 85, a Democrat, won his seventh term in the Senate. He has served in Congress ever since Arizona became a state in 1912. His opponent was Republican State Sen. Evan Mecham.

TENNESSEE

Frank Clement, former governor and keynote speaker at the 1956 Democratic national convention, defeated Republican Hubert Patty and independent William R. Anderson for the governorship. Anderson is a former skipper of the nuclear submarine Nautilus.

Issue Of 'Peace Or War' Removed—Khrushchev

. . . Sees No Need For A Summit Meeting

Moscow (AP) — Premier Khrushchev said Wednesday the 40 Soviet rockets he sent Fidel Castro probably were "already on their way" back to Russia, and declared himself relieved at the easing of the Cuban crisis.

In a relaxed and winking mood, the Soviet leader said now that the issue of "peace or war" has been removed there is no need of a summit meeting with President Kennedy.

Chatting with reporters at a Kremlin party marking the 45th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, Khrushchev said some tensions remain but he hinted at more "flexibility" in Soviet foreign policy—including that toward Berlin.

Salute To Castro

The Kremlin reception came after the Russians saluted Castro by kicking off the big parade through Red Square with a rousing rendition of "The 26th of July," the marching song of the Cuban revolutionary movement.

Rockets resembling those spotted in Cuba rolled by in a 11-minute show of Soviet military hardware that featured missiles—but there was hardly a rocket rattle to be heard in the oratory.

One new rocket displayed, military experts said, appeared to be a naval design similar to the U.S. Navy's Polaris missile. But the experts said they did not think it could be fired from underwater like the Polaris.

Khrushchev belittled the significance of the Soviet rocket bases in Cuba — bases top Russian diplomats and Castro himself insisted at one time never existed.

Calls Them Rockets Now

In previous letters to President Kennedy, Khrushchev refused even to use the word rockets, referring to them as weapons which Kennedy regarded as offensive. But Wednesday Khrushchev said:

"We had 40 rockets there. What are 40 rockets? Even 140 wouldn't be enough."

U.S. Eases News Blockade

Washington (AP) — The White House Wednesday night authorized U.S. reporters to go to Guantanamo on Friday to cover developments in the Cuban crisis on the spot.

Clearance of coverage on the scene was granted after the government considered requests by news media to send correspondents to the area of the naval blockade of Cuba and to the naval base at Guantanamo.

The White House made public this announcement, in the form of a telegram to news executives:

"Defense Department has been directed to clear first group of reporters into Guantanamo on Friday ayem (A.M.). Art Sylvester of defense is handling arrangements."

The wire was sent by White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger. Arthur Sylvester is assistant secretary of defense for public affairs.

The message was addressed to James C. Hagerty, vice president of the American Broadcasting Co.; William MacAndrew, National Broadcasting Co.; Wes Gallagher, general manager of the Associated Press; Richard Salant, Columbia Broadcasting System, and Mims Thomason, president of United Press International.

These news executives had wired Salinger last weekend, renewing their request for direct coverage of the Cuban emergency. Salinger replied that he would take it up again with President Kennedy.

The White House telegram said "reporters," but a defense Department spokesman said photographers also would be allowed into Guantanamo on a pool basis, an arrangement whereby one man represents two or more news media. The spokesman said he did not know how many photographers would be admitted.

Salinger's telegram to the news executives Wednesday night did not meet that portion of their request seeking permission to assign men to the blockade fleet.

Kennedys Set Precedent In Government Service

Washington (AP) — Here is a precedent in American history: 3 brothers in the highest echelons of the federal government at the same time.

A tourist walking along Pennsylvania Avenue next year conceivably could get a glimpse, in the space of a mile, of President Kennedy at the White House, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy at the Justice Department; Sen.-elect Edward M. Kennedy at the Capitol.

Edward won the Senate seat vacated by his eldest brother who became president two years ago.

Unquestionably, the magic of the Kennedy name in Massachusetts accounts in part for Edward's steamroller victory over George Cabot Lodge, the Republican candidate.

But it is not the whole story.

The other parts are personality, grinding work, organization, and what appears to be a native political acumen and instinct.

To get to Washington, Edward left few if any stones unturned in his fights in the Democratic convention, in the primary and through the finals.

On The Job

On the night of the primary, for example, it was after 2 a.m. before he went to bed. Four hours later he was standing at the gate of a Boston shipyard, greeting the workers. He never stopped campaigning, took no "breathers."

He had the benefit of some of the professionals who helped engineer his brother's victory in the presidential race of 1960. Stephen Smith, his brother-in-law, husband of the former Jean Kennedy, was the key figure in his organization.

The woman's vote was a factor in his favor. Edward, 30, is tall, dark and handsome. He roused the squealers, shriekers, jumpers, and touchers to an even greater degree than John F. Kennedy did two years ago.

He Was Better

Finally, according to Massachusetts observers, Edward was a better campaigner in his first try for elective office than his brother was when he first ran for Congress in 1946.

His election raises some intriguing political questions.

As a senator, will Edward vote against legislation sent up by the White House?

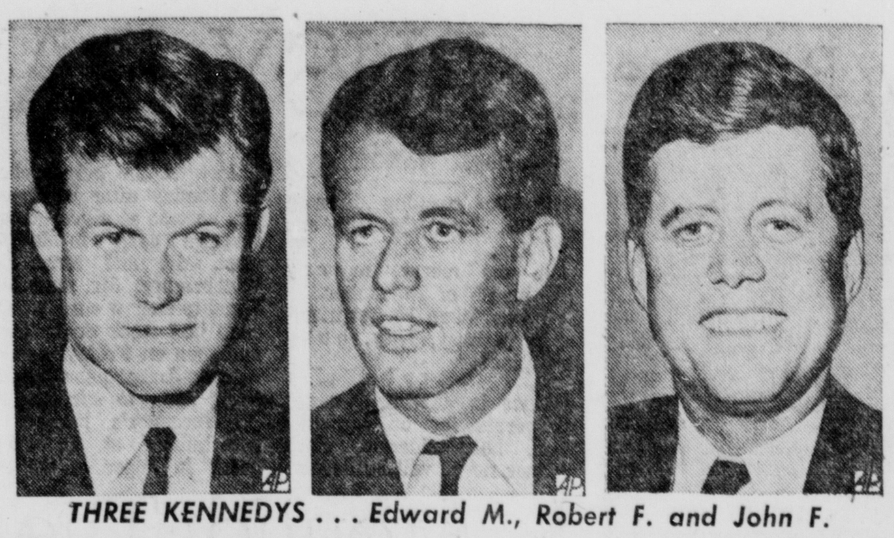
Rubber Stamp

Lodge attempted to pin a "rubber stamp" label on Edward in the campaign. Kennedy said he foresaw no conflicts between his duty as a senator and his devotion to his brother.

Both the President and Edward likely will be running for re-election in 1964, since Edward is filling the last two years of an unexpired term. The voters in Massachusetts, obviously, did not think 3 Kennedys in Washington would be too many.

But will the cry of "dynasty" be an issue for the electorate as a whole in the next national elections?

One thing is certain: Nobody on the floor of the Senate will be watched more closely, by his colleagues and especially the Argus-eyed Washington press corps, than the third man from the Kennedy clan.



THREE KENNEDYS . . . Edward M., Robert F. and John F.

★ ★ ★ ★

JFK May Get Better Break On Legislation

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy figures to get a somewhat better legislative break from the 88th Congress than he did from the 87th, even though Tuesday's elections made no substantial change in the party lineup.

In the campaign, Kennedy asked the voters to send more Democrast to Congress. What he really needed — and what he got, to some extent — was more Democrats likely to support his programs.

It appeared the new lineup in the all-important House would be 259 Democrats and 176 Republicans, compared to the old ratio of 263 to 174. The indicated Senate lineup: 68 to 32 in favor of the Democrats, as to the 87th's 64 to 36.

Political Bent

More important, from the administration's standpoint, is the political bent of new House and Senate members. Indications are that the elections worked to Kennedy's favor in this respect.

On the domestic front, the big legislative issues next year shape up as medical care for the aged under social security, federal aid to education, and tax reforms including cuts in income levies. All 3 rate high on Kennedy's priority list, and on the first two he was rebuffed by the 87th Congress.

Other issues are sure to arise, including many in the field of foreign policy. But the 3 domestic programs are good bets to be presented for action when the new Congress convenes Jan. 9.

In the session just past, the Senate killed 52 to 48, a hastily drafted program to provide a basic package of health benefits for 17 million elderly persons. Kennedy vowed in campaign speeches to revive the issue of financing health benefits under social security and present a new program next year.

Federal aid for colleges, and assistance for grade and high schools, was snagged in a bitter dispute with religious overtones through two sessions of the 87th Congress.

Kennedy was expected to make another try at resolving the stalemate, largely caused by a dispute over what kind of federal aid, if any, should be given parochial schools. He may center his efforts on assistance for higher education, placing a lower priority on elementary and secondary aid.

Tax Package

In the tax field, Kennedy promised he would send Congress a package calling for across-the-board cuts in individual and corporate income taxes. The revenue losses, he indicated, would be partially offset by reform measures designed to close some existing tax "Loopholes."

The early odds were that the lawmakers would approve the tax cuts, but delay action on the more controversial tax reform part.

On issues other than civil rights, Kennedy can expect more help from southerners next year. Of 30 Dixie Democrats endorsed by organized labor, 25 won Tuesday.

Can Get By

As for civil rights, Kennedy can get by in the House without southern help. The problem here is in the Senate, where southern members can tie things up with the filibuster.

Kennedy is expected to push for new rights legislation this year. But Tuesday's voting had little bearing on what its fate will be.

But the elections could make all the difference on some other issues.

One of the most crucial from Kennedy's standpoint will be the opening go-round on the House Rules Committee, which routes legislation to the floor. Sometimes in the past it has sat on bills its conservative majority did not want passed.

Arms Twisted

Only after a lot of arm-twisting by the late speaker Sam Rayburn did Kennedy succeed at the start of the 87th Congress, in getting the committee enlarged to include additional members responsive to the requests of the speaker. The hairline vote was 217 to 212.

The increase was temporary, and the issue must be faced again when the new Congress convenes. This time no arm-twister of Rayburn's caliber is around. Had the Democratic Party lost any substantial number of seats, they could not have made it. As it turned out, they were given a good chance to keep the enlarged committee intact.

That would help clear the way for later tests on other proposals for which prospects looked somewhat improved on the basis of the somewhat liberalized house complexion. Among these were the President's plan to make jobs for unemployed youths in a revived civilian conservation corps; some form of construction aid for colleges; federal subsidies for mass transit in big cities; a new plan to curb the farm surplus.

ELECTION HEARTENS PRESIDENT

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy declared himself "heartened" by the election results Wednesday and predicted the new 88th Congress will meet its responsibilities in a "progressive and vigorous manner."

Kennedy confined his public comment to a 38-word statement but privately he was pleased as punch that in an off-year election the Democrats had picked up Senate seats and held Republican gains in the House to a bare minimum.

The White House issued this statement on the president's behalf: "I am heartened by the results of Tuesday's election. The country and the Congress face major responsibilities in a progressive and vigorous manner."

The next session of Congress will convene Jan. 9 with Kennedy expected to prod for such programs as medicare, federal aid to education and tax reforms which were ditched by the House and Senate in his first two years in office.

Kennedy aides viewed the election results as a salient legislative gain.

With specific attribution, the White House commented: "if the Republican gain of no more than two seats in the House, while losing a net of 4 seats in the Senate, remains as it is at present, the Democratic Party will have scored a victory exceeded in the last 60 years only by the Democratic Party under Franklin Roosevelt in 1934."

The White House statement summed up the results this way: "An analysis of those House seats won and lost by Democrats shows a clear net gain in support of the President's program."

Waterways Busiest

Paris — French waterways carried a record amount of cargo last year — 70,643,000 gross tons, a 4.4% gain over 1960.

Negroes Make Gains

Washington (UPI) — When the 88th Congress convenes in January, Negroes will hold more seats than at any time since the Civil War Reconstruction Days.

Four Negro House members won re-election in Tuesday's balloting. They were joined by a 5th, Democrat Augustus F. Hawkins, who will represent the newly created 21st district of California.

Hawkins defeated a Negro Republican candidate to represent the district, which is part of Los Angeles.

In the election of 1874, Negro candidates reached their peak strength. With the southern states under carpetbag rule, one Negro was sent to the Senate and 7 to the House.

At least one Negro from the South served in every Congress trere-after until 1901. However, after 1901 no Negro held a congressional seat until 1928.

In Tuesday's balloting incumbent Negro members of the House won re-election with east. All Democrats, they are Reps. Adam Clayton Powell, N.Y.; Charles C. Diggs Jr., Detroit; William L. Dawson, Chicago, and Robert N. C. Nix, Philadelphia. All of the incumbents represent districts with heavy Negro populations and all were opposed by Negro Republicans.

In the race for important state offices, northern Negro candidates set another record.

In Massachusetts, Edward T. Brooke, a Negro Republican, was elected attorney general. Connecticut voters elected Negro Democrat Gerald Lamb to the state treasurer's office. He defeated another Negro candidate to win the post.

Michigan elected Negro Otis M. Smith to a full term on the state supreme court. A Democrat, Smith had been serving by appointment.

But in New York, the state's first Negro to be nominated to a major statewide office, Democrat R. Dudley, was beaten in his bid to topple State Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, a Republican.

By a busy, busy, busy place!"

Once in a while, we get desperate for an introduction, but evidently, Park Manor never will be desperate for social life.

Back in the neighborhood on Monday after being host and hostess at a very unique surprise party in Indiana were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Winebrinner. Mr. and Mrs. Winebrenner went to Chicago last week on business, and then on Friday, went to Hunter Lake near Middlebury, Ind., to surprise Mr. Winebrenner's parents by entertaining at an open house in honor of the couple's Golden Wedding anniversary.

The lakeside home of Mr. Winebrenner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Winebrenner, was the setting for the party, attended by many friends and family members.

And leaving tomorrow for a visit south of the border are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred O. Sasse of Park Manor. Mr. and Mrs. Sasse will spend a week in Mexico, as the local winners of a prize award by a national firm for salesmen and dealers from all over the United States.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Sasse on their flight to Mexico and during their stay in Mexico City and Acapulco will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pillard, another winning Lincoln couple.

A party given after the Nebraska-Missouri game last weekend by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnston was really a small-scale high school reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, who attended Neligh High School, entertained three couples who were in Lincoln for the game and who had attended high school together.

At the Johnston home for the post-game supper and an evening of recalling the "good ol' school days," were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Jones of Norfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Derry of Huskerville.

Expected to arrive this evening in Park Manor are Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Swenson of Downers Grove, Ill., who will be the houseguests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Miller.

Mrs. Miller's sister, Miss Marion Swenson, will accompany her parents to Lincoln, returning home after the weekend, while Mr. and Mrs. Swenson plan to stay in the city until after Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Falos did some pre-game and post-game entertaining last weekend. Their Omaha visitors, Mr. and Mrs. John Goodwill, were guests at a buffet luncheon at the Falos home before the game, and dinner guests at a local steak house following the afternoon of football.

This weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Falos and two other Park Manor couples, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barrett and Mr. and Mrs. Wally Albers, will take in another Nebraska game, and they're going to Lawrence, Kans., to do it.

The double trio will be joining hundreds of other Nebraskans who plan to board the special Elks train to Kansas University. The Park Manor residents and their fellow Husker supporters will take the rails out of Lincoln at 6:45 o'clock Saturday morning, and will return (on a victory special, we hope) at midnight.

Around The Town

After a brief respite devoted to Good Citizenship—everyone was working at the polls, it seems—the citizenry has returned to its normal social pace which will include another busy week end. Although many resodents are looking forward to a trip to Lawrence, Kan., many others will be dining and dancing in Lincoln on Saturday evening.

Before becoming involved in the week end, however, there is news of a visitor in town, Mrs. Rolla C. Van Kirk of Washington, D.C., who is the houseguest of her mother, Mrs. E. J. Burkett. Mrs. Van Kirk will leave on Monday to return home after a stay of several weeks in Lincoln.

* * *

And planning to leave Lincoln this week end for a warmer climate are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Putney who will spend several months at Clifton, Ariz., visiting with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh LaMaster.

Included among the informal courtesies honoring Mr. and Mrs. Putney before their departure was the dinner for which Mrs. Ellery Davis was hostess Monday evening at the University Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Putney also were honored on Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Garner were host and hostess at dinner.

* * *

We doubt that any kilts will be in evidence Saturday evening for the "Gathering of the Clan" at the Lincoln Country Club, where the members of the Revelers will dine and dance. But the invitations read that following a "bountiful buffet", the evening will be devoted to the Highland Fling — so you never can tell.

Chairmen for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Longman, and guests of the club will include Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Erickson of Wahoo, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Chapin, and Capt. and Mrs. David Hollenbaugh.

* * *

Also dining and dancing on Saturday evening will be the members of the Mad Hatters Club who will meet in the Terrace Room of the Lincoln Hotel for a pre-Thanksgiving party.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Oppegard are in charge of arrangements assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Tom True, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Paugh and Mr. and Mrs. Don Whitney.

Guests for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Keith Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jolly, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Landon.

Dear Abby

Can't Have It Both Ways

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband started to gamble a few years ago. He used to win big so it was no problem. Lately he is betting heavy and now his losses are more than we can afford. Should I set a limit on how much he can gamble? I hate to make him quit entirely because it is his only relaxation. I've heard that gambling is a sickness. If it is, what is the cure?

GAMBLER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You can't have it both ways. If you accept a man's winnings, you can't complain when he gambles away the grocery money Gambling can indeed become a sickness. Write to Gamblers Anonymous, P.O. Box 17173, Los Angeles 17, Calif., for helpful information. (It's free).

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I have always known that my nose was not my best feature but I don't think about it until someone gets me off in a corner and asks, "How come you don't get your nose fixed?"

I have seen worse noses than mine and don't give it a second thought if the person's personality is pleasing. But what do you say to people who ask questions like that?

NOSE BETTER

DEAR NOSE: Tell them you don't need to have it fixed because it still runs all right. P.S. The only reason one should consider cosmetic surgery is to please himself.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Please tell your readers that there is a simple way to have one's keys returned in case of loss without foolishly tagging keys with one's own name and address, thus risking burglary or car theft. Tag the keys with the telephone number of a close friend or relative. The person whose number is on the keys can then arrange to return the keys to their owner.

It Seams To Me

Questions And Answers

Patricia Scott

In answering readers' letters I try to give definite solutions to their problems, rather than a vague "I think this will work." But, if the questions aren't clear, if they don't state the problem exactly, it is sometimes impossible for me to answer them properly.

Q. I have two flared skirts which fit perfectly except for one thing. They hang unevenly. What causes this and is there anything to do about it?—Miss D.R.

A. Well now, that depends . . . You say the skirts fit perfectly, but how can they if they hang unevenly! Do you mean that the hems are uneven, but the skirts hang well from the waistline? Or, have they been cut poorly and off grain, so that they fall badly from the waist down? I'll have to take a guess, and assume that since they are flared, the skirts are cut on the bias, and, because of this bias cut, they have stretched from hanging. If so, all you need do is take down the hem, measure it again and even it out.

Q. I am having some trouble. My sleeve seems to bind and wrinkle at the notch in front. These wrinkles show on the sleeve but not on the bodice. What can I do?—Mrs. J.C.

A. Your sleeve is probably too tight. A large muscle could move it. Or was the armhole cut too small? You'll have to take out the sleeve, or at least rip it out in the area of the wrinkles. First, pin the sleeve to the bodice, taking a smaller seam in the sleeve, and note how it fits. If that doesn't work, take smaller seams in both bodice and sleeve. Your only problem in doing this may be that the seam allowance is too small. If that is the case, the only solution is to add a gusset—if you have any scraps of the fabric left.

Q. How should the seams of peau de soie be pressed? If I press on the wrong side it shows marks on the right side. If I press on the right side it leaves a shine. Also, using a steam iron makes it look flat and overhandled. Please help.—Mrs. G.K.

A. The steam is not causing the trouble. Using a scrap of fabric to test, place a press cloth over the seam on the wrong side. This should do the trick. If it doesn't, place the right side of the dress on a turkish towel and press on the wrong side using a press cloth.

Opening lead — nine of clubs.

Good defensive play rests heavily on partnership cooperation. The defenders work together as a team, helping each other in every conceivable way to solve the mystery of declarer's unseen hand. Only by guiding each other through the use of conventions and ordinary common sense can they hope to achieve a high degree of affectiveness.

Look at this hand, for example, where West leads a club. East doesn't have to be a genius to read the lead as a singleton. After all, he had bid hearts, and West presumably wouldn't lead a club instead of a heart unless he had a good reason. That reason, particularly in view of East's club length, has to be that the club is a singleton.

So East takes the ace and returns the ten of clubs. He chooses the ten, a high card, to show that he wants the high suit (as between hearts and diamonds) returned when West ruffs. This is a use of the suit-preference convention.

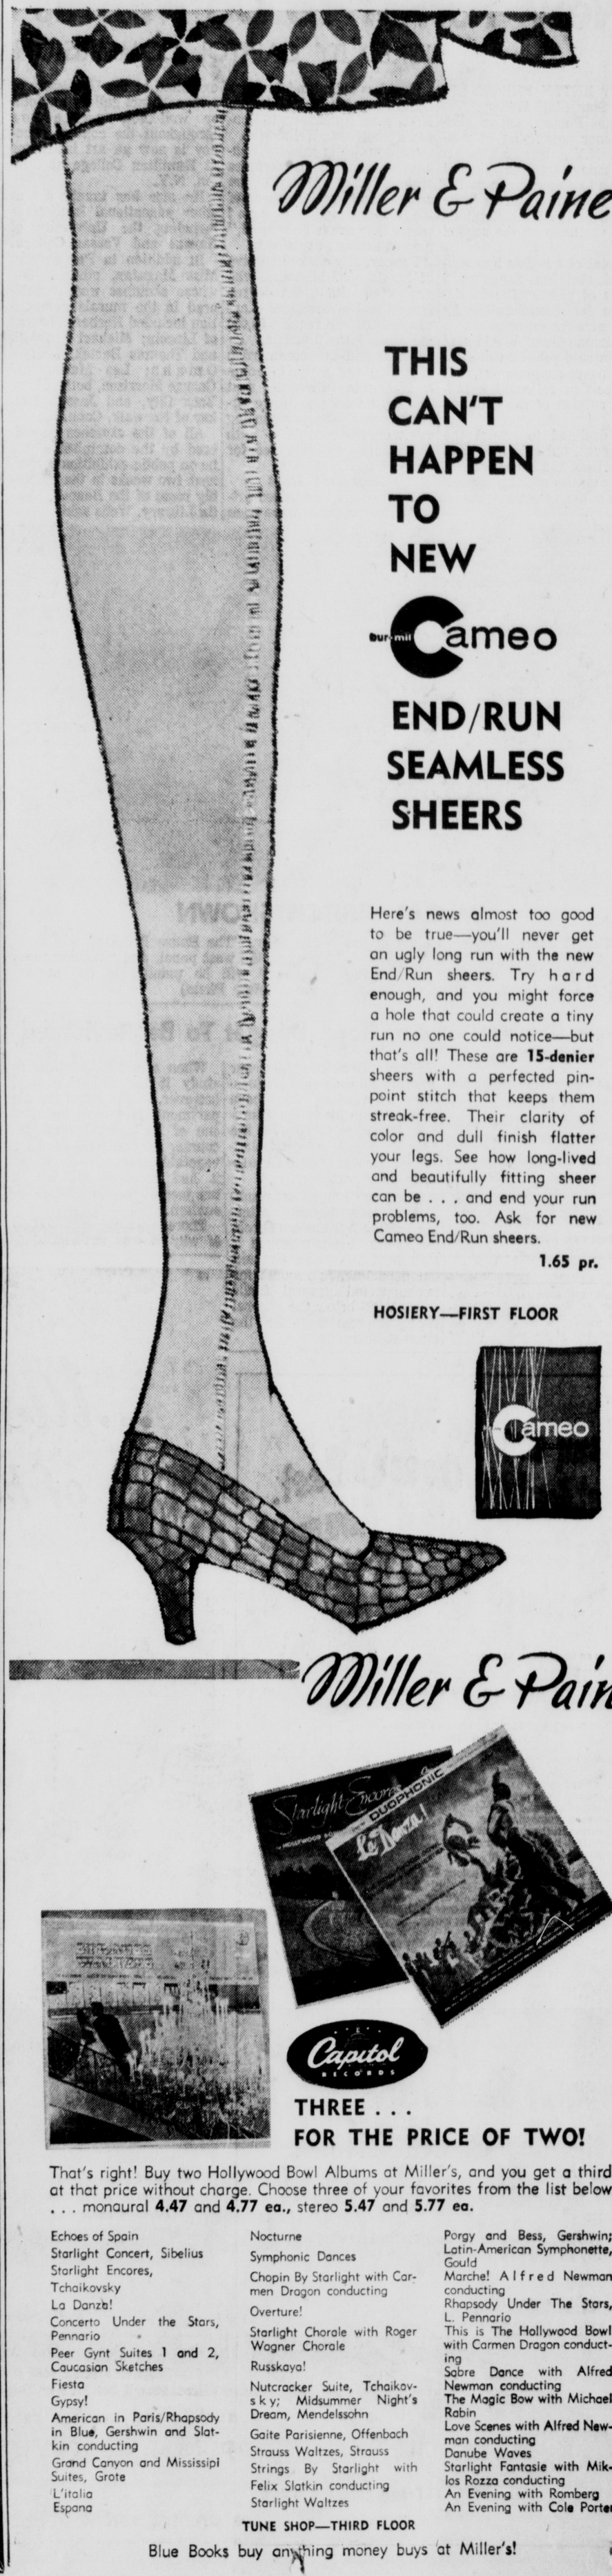
West trumps with the six of spades and obediently leads the four of hearts (his fourth-best heart). The queen loses to the ace and South leads the king of spades, West playing the two and East the ace.

At this point East has a critical decision to make. If he tries to cash the king of hearts, which he might be tempted to do, he hands South the contract. South would ruff and make the rest of the tricks.

But if he leads a club, West ruffs and South goes down.

How can East know which to lead? He would surely play a club if he knew West had another trump. But he knows that if declarer started with a sixcard trump suit, West will not have a spade with which to ruff a club return.

Actually, East solves the problem quite easily. West earlier played the six and then the two of trumps. This high-low, called a trump echo, signals that he started with three trumps. East therefore returns a club to defeat the contract.



New Yorker To Do Murals

. . . PICKED BY CAPITOL COMMISSION

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

James Penney, native Midwesterner now living in Clinton, N.Y., was chosen Wednesday by the Capitol Murals Commission as the artist to paint 3 murals to be located in the State Capitol's north vestibule on the second floor.

A total of 8 artists had submitted sketches depicting 3 phases of pioneer life in Nebraska for consideration by the 9-member commission.

Chairman Fred Wells of Lincoln said selection of Penney was not unanimous, but the decision reflected a majority opinion of the commission.

He declined to reveal the vote count, but said that once the decision had been reached, the "commission as a whole" found the selection "pleasing."

Sketches submitted by Miss Ethel Magafan of Woodstock, N.Y., were runners-up to Penney's sketches, Wells said.

"The majority selected Penney because his sketches seemed better adapted to the design and architecture of the Capitol and the spot where they are to be located," the chairman explained.

Penney, 52-year-old native of St. Joseph, Missouri, who graduated with a BA degree from the University of Kansas in 1931, will receive $5,000 for each of the 3 panels.

Wells said the commission is asking the artist to come to Nebraska within the next two or 3 weeks to make arrangements about beginning work on the murals — with the completion date set for June of next year.

Recognized Artist

A nationally recognized artist whose paintings have been exhibited at the University of Nebraska art gallery and other well-know galleries throughout the country, Penney is now an art instructor at Hamilton College at Clinton, N.Y.

He also has taught art at other educational institutions including the University of Kansas and Vassar College.

In addition to Penney and Miss Magafan, other artists whose sketches were considered in the murals competition included Herbert Thomas of Lincoln; Michael J. Smith and Thomas Bartek, both of Omaha; Leo Manso and George Morrison, both of New York City, and Joseph Lasker of Norwalk, Conn.

All of the sketches considered by the commission will be on public exhibition for the next two weeks in the assembly room of the Bennett Martin Library, Wells said.

MURAL SKETCH SHOWN

This is James Penny's sketch of the mural he will paint of "The Homesteader's Campfire" for the east panel in the State Capitol's north vestibule on the second floor. "The House Raising" will appear in the west panel, and "Turning the Furrow" will be painted in the north panel. (Star Photo)

2 Former Lincolnites Elected To Offices

Two former Lincolnites and University of Nebraska graduates were elected this week to public office in Oregon.

Kenneth McGregor was named mayor of Corvallis, and his brother Donald elected to the board of county commissioners in Grant Pass. Both men are brothers of Miss Margaret McGregor of Lincoln.

Ag. Dept. Budget To Be Reviewed

State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson said Wednesday a meeting has been scheduled in his office Thursday afternoon to go over the 1963-65 budget request submitted by the State Department of Agriculture.

When the budget was submitted late Monday afternoon, State Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan issued a statement in which he said the department's request for tax-supported general funds was $33,756 below the general funds appropriated for the current biennium.

When officials had time to study it the following day, however, it was noted the department had not included one of its general fund accounts: Account 145—used for vegetable research—for which it had received $134,600 in tax monies for the 1961-63 biennium.

There was no explanation of why it was omitted.

Write-In Solomon Polls Big Cass Co. Comeback

Lincoln Star Special

Plattsmouth — Cass County Sheriff Tom Solomon, defeated by his Democratic opponent in the primary, made a write-in comeback to poll within 40 votes of Republican candidate Fred Tesch in the general election.

Solomon

The outcome won't be known until mail ballots are counted Friday, according to Charles Land, county clerk. Sheriff Solomon polled 2,314 votes, Republican Tesch, 2,358, and Democrat Wayne Schneider, 1,145.

Incumbent County Attorney James Begley won easily over his challenger Paul Fauquet, as did incumbent County Assessor Clara Olson over Richard Royer.

Re-elected unopposed were Charles Land, county clerk; Lucille Gaines, register of deeds, C. E. Ledgway, clerk of the district court and William Coakley, county surveyor.

Incumbent Melvin Todd defeated two men, Victor Plunkett and Fred Reichart, for the Second District county commission seat.

Johnson Contest Hinges On Mail

Lincoln Star Special

Tecumseh—Mail votes may decide the outcome of a 3-way race for Third District county commissioner Friday.

Candidates polled: Louis Boeve, Democrat, 346; Walter Damme, Republican, 342, and John Huls, Democratic incumbent who lost in the primary, 319 write-in votes.

In other Johnson County races, incumbents fared well. Charles Rickman defeated Fred Werman for First District county commissioner; Wilber Lintz defeated Ole Olson and Marvin Meints for sheriff.

County Assessor John Evans, Republican, lost his post to Democrat Dick Mahoney by a 1,463 to 1,284 majority.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

This house has a Franklin stove and a Japanese hibachi will fit in it.

This was a great relief. If you live in the Biggest State in the World — (California, here they come)— you must barbecue. Cook on charcoal or the neighbors will not integrate you.

☆ ☆ ☆

The correct way to do this is to cook in the backyard. But San Francisco has precious few backyards. So we barbecue in the fireplace.

The house had no fireplace. But in the front room it has a Franklin stove. This is a black contraption that you build a fire in—an open firepit with a stovepipe running out the roof.

Naturally, it is not a huge thing. And I didn't know whether a hibachi would fit in the thing. But I found a small one at the supermarket. It fit fine.

☆ ☆ ☆

The hibachi is a Japanese invention. They invented it primarily to warm rooms.

In the hotel I stay at in Tokyo, there is no central heating.

It is a Japanese hotel. The Japanese maid-san comes in the morning with a hibachi—a sort of cast-iron, square bucket. It is filled with sand. On top of the sand, she has three pieces of glowing charcoal.

It warms the room about as much as if you had lighted a couple of paper matches. But the charcoal is artistically arranged.

She puts in three pieces though it would hold 4.

The Japanese word "4" is "shih." This also means "death." So Japanese don't use anything in fours. Fact, they don't even use the word. They say "yong" instead. Even though the real word is "shih."

This is pretty inscrutable. But that is why you go to Japan. To see the inscrutable Orient.

☆ ☆ ☆

When you bring the hibachi to the U.S. (and sell them in drugstores and supermarkets), you don't put any sand in at all.

You fill it with charcoal. On the charcoal, you squirt a little fluid. (Also sold in drugstores and supermarkets. Ah, wondrous world!)

You let this soak in for a couple of minutes. Then you throw in a match.

It blazes up like a 4-alarm fire.

Then it dies down and the charcoal is not even charred. I can do more damage to a table by leaving a lighted cigarette on it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Now you pour on more fluid. Eventually the charcoal gives up in a sulky way and begins to glow.

You can cook steaks on it. Open all the windows so the smoke can get out. And the neighbors know you are not a square, cooking on your $500 kitchen stove with the built-in timer.

You are cooking on a Japanese hibachi. A social success.

Over a number of years, I have been advised by other social barbecuers how to light the charcoal.

Some people marinate the charcoal in kerosene. Keep it there for days.

There are others who punch holes in an empty tomato can. They put the charcoal in this and claim it goes like wild. (You must also have a pair of tongs to remove the can once the charcoal is going. And a place to put the hot can. A social barbecue can be as expensive as putting a child through college.)

☆ ☆ ☆

Anyway, the supermarket barbecue fit the phony fireplace. And the other night I gave it a preview.

It worked wonderfully. Smoke absolutely poured out the open window and drove us out into the cold night. The steaks were charred to a crisp. And the cold air blowing on them chilled them less than room temperature.

The social state of affairs, however, are warm as you could wish.

Morrison Receives Bare Majority Here

Lancaster County voters gave re-elected Gov. Frank Morrison only a majority of 4,037 votes at the polls Tuesday as compared to the 1960 margin of 19,567 votes, while the only two Democrats seeking county office won re-election.

Democrat Morrison ran 23,713 to 19,676 against Republican nominee Fred Seaton in unofficial county returns.

Two years ago, Morrison bested Republican John Cooper by 39,397 to 19,928 in the county in winning his first term.

In 1958, Democrat Ralph Brooks unseated Republican Gov. Vic Anderson by a 3,390 vote plurality in Anderson's home county.

Democrat Clair Callan managed a 4,590 margin in Lancaster County in his unsuccessful bid for Congress against incumbent Republican Ralph Beermann. The vote was 22,325 to 17,735. Petition candidate George Menkens picked up 1,991.

Two Democratic incumbents—County Board Chairman Ralph Harlan and County Clerk Carl Hartman—successfully put down Republican challenges in the only two contested Lancaster County Courthouse races.

Commissioner Harlan was swept to a second-term by a comfortable 6,506 vote margin over Republican nominee Del Lienemann, a former commissioner. The vote was 23,704 to 17,198.

County Clerk Hartman was re-elected by the narrower margin of 2,163 votes as Republican Harold Hamlin, former clerk of the county court, managed 19,630 votes against the Democrat's 21,793.

In a special county issue, the voters authorized the County Board to establish a retirement benefits plan for county employes by a vote of 23,966 to 18,073 at the polls.

Election results cannot be changed by the mail vote count in the official canvass later.

WHITE'S SUCCESSOR RAISES SPECULATION

With the election of Lancaster District Judge Paul White to the position of Chief Justice of the Nebraska Supreme Court, speculation mounts as to his successor on the District Court bench.

Judge White's present term will not expire until January, 1965.

The re-election of Governor Frank Morrison could mean that the appointment would go to a Democrat.

The governor makes the appointment.

Not Obligated

However, many persons indicate that Morrison should not and probably won't feel obligated to appoint a Democrat since many Republicans were responsible for his re-election.

In recent years there have been no appointments to fill unexpired terms on the Lancaster District Court bench.

Judge John Polk is the only present district judge who was appointed. He served as municipal judge before his appointment in 1937 by former Gov. Roy Cochran. He has been re-elected regularly since them.

The positions of county judge and county attorney have proved to be ideal spots for advancement to the district court bench.

Prospects

District Judge Elmer Scheele served as county attorney and District Judge Herbert A. Ronin served as county judge prior to their elections to the district bench in 1960.

Judge White was elected district judge after serving as municipal judge.

Based on this theory, County Judge Ralph Slocum and County Attorney Paul Douglas have been cited as good prospects.

However, other sources reveal that Juvenile Court Judge W. W. Nuernberger is a likely candidate for the district court vacancy.

Judge Nuernberger was elected to his first term as juvenile court judge Tuesday, having been appointed to the position in 1960 by former Gov. Dwight Burney.

The re-election of Morrison has caused the spotlight to focus on Mayor Pat Boyles who strongly supported the full-time mayor plan but stated he would not be a candidate.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerology puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 5 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. MARTIN . . . looks forward to Kansas meeting.

SCARLET SALUTE:

Martin Needs No Incentive For KU

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

Noel Martin is one Cornhusker who has special reasons for wanting to whip the Kansas Jayhawks Saturday at Lawrence.

After all, how many football players get to point for an opponent coached by their father-in-law?

Martin married ex-Husker coach Bill Jennings' daughter Vickie and the Martins have a young daughter, Ann Catherine—which makes the present Kansas backfield coach a grandpa.

"Looking Forward"

"I've been looking forward to a win over Kansas for 5 years," Martin said. "And I'm sure looking forward to this week."

Martin said the KU game was important because "we about have to have it for the Big 8 race," but he added:

"It helps, I guess, to have Bill Jennings at Kansas. That's one big reason I'd like to beat 'em, but there are quite a few others."

Among Martin's other reasons for wanting to beat Kansas:

—He's a native of Clay Center, Kan., and chose Nebraska despite recruiting attempts by KU and Kansas State.

—During his time at NU, Kansas has won by margins of 29-7, 10-3, 31-0 and 28-6; the first loss was during his freshman year, the last in 1961 when he was on the squad but did not play.

'59 Irks

It's the 1959 game, his sophomore campaign, which nettles Martin the most.

As he recalls, Nebraska had a good chance to win when Carroll Zaruba "probably would have scored if he could have cut back inside, but Curtis McClinton was shooting and threw him for a loss.

"I was supposed to block McClinton, but he shot in and I missed him," Noel grumbles.

Even More

And there is more. Kansas scored the decisive TD when a Jayhawk receiver fell down in the end zone, then rose to one knee to catch a desperation heave by John Hadl.

"I was in the end zone and the ball went over my hands," Martin said.

While Martin sparkled as a linebacker in his sophomore campaign, he was also an able ball carrier until knee injuries plagued him the next two years. This fall he's fit and has turned in some good duty for the Cornhuskers.

Both Sides

"I like to play both offense and defense," Noel said. "But defense is just fine as long as I get to play. It's especially fun on defense when you can get on offense mighty quick, like last Saturday."

Against Missouri Martin intercepted a Tiger pass and raced 88-yards for Nebraska's only TD.

Like most of the Huskers, Martin had a great deal of sympathy for John Faiman, NU quarterback who broke his leg Tuesday.

"Boy, if there was one team John wanted to play against—and he was going to get a chance—it was Kansas," he said. "But I guess that wraps it up for him, and it's a darn shame."

Martin doesn't go in for football game predictions, but he said, "We'd better win against Kansas—it's a must game. A point is as good as a mile, but I'd like it to be quite a ways in our favor."

Huskers In Last Hard Session

Coach Bob Devaney Wednesday sent the Nebraska Cornhuskers through their last stiff session before the Kansas game.

There was some limited defensive contact during group work drills.

"Our most pressing problem is to try to stop Kansas and generate some offense of our own," Devaney said. "Both teams are about even on both offense and defense."

In 7 games Nebraska has gained 2546 yards while holding opponents to 1421 yards; Kansas has gained 2472 yards while holding opponents to 1530.

"Stop Sayers"

The Husker coach said Nebraska would attempt to stop the Jayhawks by "trying to get as many players as possible to Gale Sayers.

"He's very elusive and it's tough for one man to bring him down," Bob explained. "We will try to converge on him."

With quarterback John Faiman out for the season with a fractured leg, the Huskers were searching for a PAT and kickoff booter Wednesday.

Possible Booters

Devaney said Rudy Johnson and Bob Brown probably would do the kicking off, while Tom Ernst would work on extra points.

"Theisen last spring was our best PAT man," Bob observed.

Dennis Claridge, hobbled by a sprained ankle, worked out in pads Wednesday and Devaney said he would play "if he's ready — and we hope he will be."

Sophs Doug Tucker and Ernie Bonistall are being groomed as backstops for Claridge, one of the top offensive threats in the nation.

Thornton Better

Bill Thornton, also nursing an ankle injury, is running better this week and Devaney said, "Thunder probably will be used for spot duty — I know he wants to go."

Ron Michka, No. 1 center who suffered a wrist injury against Missouri, is also expected to play.

"Ron should be okay, except for punt snap-backs," Devaney said.

—'WILLY LOMAN, THE DYING SALESMAN'—

Magazine's Description Of Devaney Brings Laughs From Husker Team

Nebraska's Cornhuskers got some hearty laughs at practice Wednesday afternoon — at the expense of Coach Bob Devaney.

Nebraska and Devaney are the subjects of a feature article in this week's Sports Illustrated and while the words are largely complimentary to the Corhuskers, Devaney is described in rather strange fashion.

All day long Devaney was on the receiving end of good-natured ribs from assistant coaches and newsmen, but he held up strong — and decided to let his players in on the gag.

After warm-up drills Bob assembled the Huskers around him and said, "You guys think the press is tough on you when you lose, listen to what they say about me!"

Then Devaney quoted from the Sports Illustrated article which said, in part:

"Devaney's pants are baggy, his coat rumpled. He wears an old pearl stickpin in his tie. His eyes are puffy and flecks of dandruff dot his shoulders. Trudging across the Nebraska campus, he is Willy Loman, the dying salesman."

While the Cornhuskers guffawed, Devaney added, "Now, I want all of you to cancel your subscriptions to Sports Illustrated!"

Adding humor to the situation were assistant coaches Jim Ross and John Melton.

"How can you have dandruff when you don't have any hair?" Ross asked Devaney.

And Melton stormed, "Gee, coach, you told us our tie clasps were all old-fashioned and now we've all got pearl stickpins."

Not to be outdone, Devaney observed:

"I dress better now than any time in my life. If they think I'm bad now, they should have seen me a few years ago. Heck, I put on my best suit for that writer — and I even bought him a beer."

Jordan Is Lineman Of Week

By Associated Press

Lee Roy Jordan, Alabama's star center, was voted Lineman of the Week Wednesday in the Associated Press weekly poll.

Performing in the tough Southeastern Conference, Jordan made at least 12 unassisted tackles as the 3rd-ranked and unbeaten Crimson Tide whipped Mississippi State, 20-0, last Saturday.

Perhaps Jordan's most spectacular play came in the 4th quarter when he stopped State's most serious advance with a jarring 4th-down tackle on the Alabama 19.

Another center, Rich Butkus of Illinois, was high up in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters. The 240-pound sophomore turned in a great performance as the Illini ended a 15-game losing streak by upsetting Purdue, 14-10. He made 11 tackles and inspired an aroused Illini defense that repeatedly stopped Purdue in scoring territory.

Ends Rudy Kuechenberg of Indiana and Tom Magoffin of Texas Christian received high praise. Huechenberg made 8 solo tackles and was in on 6 others as the Hoosiers nearly upset top-ranked Northwestern. Magoffin caught 7 passes for 113 yards, including one for 15 yards and a touchdown.

Tony Liscio, Tulsa's big tackle who was named the lineman of the Week in the Missouri Valley Conference, achieved the goal of every lineman. Lining up as an eligible pass receiver the 235-pound senior caught a 26-yard aerial for a TD that helped insure victory over Cincinnati.

Wisconsin To Top No. One Wildcats

By WILL GRIMSLEY

New York (AP) — The Big Ten is the "upsettingest" conference in the country this year, the No. 1 position is never a comfortable one and there is traditionally an advantage to the home field.

This is the set of circumstances which should knock off the nation's football leader, Northwestern, in the headline game this week. Last week's score, which hit on the upset victories for Mississippi, Notre Dame and Pitt, was 41-12 — .773.

Another Fling:

Wisconsin 33, Northwestern 28: Ron Vanderkellen outpitches Tom Myers in a wild game.

Southern California 18, Stanford 14: Coach John McKay insists his Trojans will not have a letdown.

Alabama 14, Miami (Fla.) 0: Lee Roy Jordan and the Tide defense stops Miami's dangerous George Mira.

Texas 19, Baylor 8: both teams have heavy casualty lists, but Texas should win the shin-splints and arnica game.

Michigan 24, Illinois 14: This is the battle of the coaching Elliott brothers (Bump and Pete) — is this called fraticide?

Arkansas 17, Rice 6: the Razorbacks have the best offensive record in the Southwest.

Notre Dame 21, Pittsburgh 14: the Fighting Irish have found an inspiration in Daryle Lamonica.

Kansas 14, Nebraska 7: the Cornhuskers haven't enough defense for sophomore Gale Sayers.

Washington 14, California 8: good chance for an upset, with the Golden Bears looking better with every game.

Navy 25, Syracuse 14: if it's a dry field, Roger Staubach should hit enough targets to do the job.

Dartmouth 17, Columbia 7: the Indians have the nation's best defense against scoring, but Archie Roberts hits for one TD.

Duke 20, Maryland 17: the Blue Devils wrap up the Atlantic Coast Conference crown.

Jayhawks Work On Pass Attack

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—Kansas concentrated on passing and protecing the passer in a 2½-hour workout Wednesday for Saturday's homecoming clash with Nebraska.

Ken Coleman, whose injury has crippled the Jayhawks at fullback, worked with the alternate unit. Coach Jack Mitchell said Coleman seems to be progressing normally.

"I think he'll play, but it's a question how effective he'll be," Mitchell said.

Snead-Arnie Duo Open Play Today

. . . IN ARGENTINA

San Isidro, Argentina (AP)—Sam Snead, the millionaire hill-billy golfer from the United States, continued to burn up the Jockey Club Course Wednesday in practices for the Canada cup matches but his partner, Arnold Palmer, said "I'm playing stinking golf."

The United States pair is favored to win the 4-day competition that begins today for two-man pro golf teams from 34 different countries. The U.S. won last year's title at Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico.

But Snead says that Australia, South Africa and possibly Argentina all are strong enough to win the 72-hole tournament in which the scores of the players from each nation are totaled.

Sun Burns

A blistering sun beat down on the flat, tree-studded par 70 Jockey Club layout that stretches for 6,476 yards through this suburb of Buenos Aires. Some of the competitors, including Gary Player of South Africa, suffered painful sunburns.

Snead, wearing his usual hat, wasn't troubled. He had a 66. In two previous trips over the course he registered a 67 and a 64. The pinched nerve in his right foot showed distinct improvement after Tuesday's visit to a clinic.

But Palmer, considered the world's best golfer, still hadn't pulled his game together after a 3-week vacation. He sprayed his long irons and was off line on virtually all his putts. He did not report a score.

Not Tough

The course isn't a tough one. There is very little if any rough and the yardage is not great. However, the greens may give some of the golfers trouble.

No two of the greens are alike. Some are hard while the others are extremely soft. All have narrow entrances and most are punch-bowl shaped with very little level ground.

"These greens are tough," said Snead, "there will be a lot of 3-putt greens. Even the two-footers are going to scare a lot of people."

Most Agree

Most of the players agree with the American veteran, who last year won the individual crown while combining with Jimmy Demaret for the team laurels.

Australia is being represented by Peter Thomson and Kel Nagle, both former British Open titleholders who twice have combined for the Canada Cup. Player, generally regarded as one of the major threats to Palmer's claim of world champion, and Denis Hutchinson make up the strong South African combination. Hutchinson won both the South African Masters and Open this year.

Roberto De Vicenzo, who once won the individual laurels, is the key to Argentina's chanches. De Vicenzo is playing in his 8th Canada Cup series and when on his game is one of the best.

Claridge Falls From Top Ten List In Total Offense

Nebraska's Dennis Claridge, 8th in the nation in total offense a week ago, dropped out of the top 10 this week to leave Nebraska without a representative in the NCAA individual statistics.

The Big 8 however, still has its share of mention in the various categories.

Missouri's Johnny Roland and Iowa State's Dave Hoppmann are tied for 7th in the national scoring race and John McGuire of Colorado ranks 8th in pass receiving.

Hoppmann is also No. 9 in total offense and 7th in rushing offense. Sophomore flash Gale Sayers of Kansas and Roland hold the 3rd and 4th spots in rushing offense and Oklahoma's Joe Don Looney is 9th.

Bribes Are Related By Cage Fixer

New York (AP) — An admitted briber of college basketball athletes testified Wednesday he and a companion went on a tour of southern colleges in 1959 and hired players to dump games at prices ranging from $700 to $1,000 a game.

Aaron Wagman, testifying at the trial of Jack Molinas, said he and Joseph Green made the trip and stopped at Raleigh, N.C., the site of North Carolina State; the University of Tennessee at Knoxville and Mississippi State at Starkville, Miss.

When Green and he returned from the trip, Wagman said he reported to Molinas "we got 3 teams now."

Molinas, former Columbia University and professional basketball player, is charged with bribing a Bowling Green, Ohio player, with conspiracy in an attempted fix of 25 different games in the 1959-1960 season and with subornation of perjury.

Wagman told how Molinas recruited William Denis (Billy) Reed, 21, of Flushing, Queens, a guard on the Bowling Green (Ohio) University basketball team, to throw games. Wagman said that he and Molinas and two other coconspirators went to Toledo, Ohio, in December, 1959. While in Toledo he said, Molinas arranged for Reed to dump Bowling Green's game with Michigan State University at East Lansing, Michigan, on Dec. 3, 1959.

According to Wagman's testimony, $500 was paid to Reed and $500 to a teammate, Thomas Falentano, 23, of the Bronx, New York.

Wagman said that the deal required that Michigan State win by 7 points or more and the final score was Michigan State, 96, Bowling Green 67.

Wynn Negotiating For Coach Spot With Nats

Venice, Fla. (AP)— Veteran right-hander Early Wynn, given permission by the Chicago White Sox to make a deal for himself, said Wednesday he has had several discussions with the Washington Senators regarding a coaching or front office job.

"Nothing has been accomplished so far," said the 42-year-old hurler who fell one short of making the charmed 300-life-time victory mark

"I understand some Washington officials may come to Florida this week," Wynn said. "In that case, we may renew discussions."

Wynn said he had made arrangements some time ago about getting his release from the White Sox at the end of the 1962 season.

"The White Sox have agreed to everything I wanted," Wynn said, without making it clear whether he has officially been granted his release.

In Chicago, Ed Short, general manager of the White Sox, said: "Wynn can call his own shots."

Eight Considered In Mineral Bowl

Excelsior Springs, Mo. (AP)— The Excelsior Springs Quarterback Club, which sponsors the annual Mineral Bowl football game, announced Wednesday 8 teams are being considered for the Nov. 24 game.

Bud Lamb, president of the club, said teams under consideration are Parsons (Iowa), College of Emporia, Northern Illinois University, University of Omana, Adams (Colo.) State, Kearney (Neb.) State, St. Johns of Minnesota and William Jewell.

Lamb said two of these teams will be chosen early next week for this year's Mineral Bowl game.

Colleges Waging Full-Scale Battle

. . . AGAINST GAMBLERS

New York (UPI) — College officials quietly are waging a full-scale war against gamblers who use the dreaded "fix" in basketball and football.

Suspiciously fluctuating gambling odds are screened carefully and investigated. Scouting reports are examined for evidence of dirty work already in progress.

(And equally important is a drive by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) to help tighten anti-gambling laws in all 50 states.

"Things are quiet right now in the gambling conspiracy department," according to executive director Walt Byers of the NCAA "Maybe it runs in cycles but at any rate it's a war we haven't yet won."

The approach of a new basketball season is viewed with high hopes but many fears.

Just why basketball is more susceptible to the "fix" by shaving points or outright dumping is a mystery to some but the NCAA knows from painful experience that it's true.

"We're always on the alert in both sports," sayd Byers, "But it's our feeling that basketball is the more vulnerable."

Byers said the fix-minded gamblers ran for cover during the Kefauver investigations and again while Sen. Kenneth Keating of New York was pushing a federal anti-gambling bill in Congress.

"The Senate passed the Keating bill but the House didn't get around to it at the last session," Byers said. "They'll have to start all over again in January on new legislation.

"Meanwhile, the NCAA has pushed hard for state legislation and in the last year alone there has been action in 9 states we felt had inadequate laws."

A year ago, the NCAA asked the University of Missouri Law School to analyze state anti-gambling laws. In states where legislation either was inadequate or none existed at all, NCAA district vice presidents organized committees to see what could be done.

The law in North Carolina was regarded as perhaps the best of the state statutes and a copy of that bill was sent to all NCAA districts to serve as a model.

"South Carolina passed one like North Carolina's within the last year," Byers said. "Unitl then, South Carolina was one of the 16 states or territories we regarded as having no statute acceptable."

Among the other 15: Arizona has a committee working on a bill; Bills have been drafted in Iowa and Kansas; College committees are assisting on drawing up bills in New Mexico, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah and Wyoming.

Paper Says LA Dropping Omaha

Albuquerque, N.M.(AP)— The Albuquerque Journal said Wednesday the Los Angeles Dodgers were severing their working agreements with the Omaha club in the American Association and Greenville, S.C., in the Sally League.

Sports editor Leroy Bearman reported the Dodgers would have a class AA team at Albuquerque in the Texas League and a class AAA team at Spokane in the Pacific Coast League.

Dunkel Rates Badgers, Wildcats Even

... KANSAS GIVEN 7-POINT NOD OVER HUSKERS

By DICK DUNKEL

Big Ten football, a headache for which there seems to be no fast, fast relief, may be in a worse mess by Saturday night.

Northwestern, the only member who's undefeated, although jostled by Indiana last week, also may be taking Brand X by that time.

The Wildcats must face Wisconsin at Madison and there's only one-tenth of a point of difference between their ratings. This one figures easily as the closest of the week's games involving the Top Twelve, in which Dunkel Index differences are as follows:

Wisconsin even with Nor'western.

Alabama 12 over Miami, Fla.

Ole Miss 46 over Chat'nooga.

Minnesota 4 over Iowa.

Oklahoma 11 over Iowa St.

LSU 11 over TCU.

Arkansas 14 over Rice.

So. Calif. 15 over Stanford.

Texas 12 over Baylor.

Ga. Tech 13 over Fla. State.

Oregon 18 over Wash. State.

Higher rating teams have won in 76.0 percent of the 1,327 games, not counting ties, covered here this season to date.

Pars in the week's other big games:

Friday night

Cincinnati 4 over Detroit.

Saturday

EAST: Navy 8 over Syracuse, Penn State 15 over W. Virginia, Army 11 over Okla. State, Boston College 10 over Texas Tech, Dartmouth 20 over Columbia, Harvard 8 over Princeton, Yale 12 over Penn, Villanova 17 over Massachusetts.

MIDWEST: Ohio State 7 over Indiana, Mich. State 3 over Purdue, Missouri 38 over Colorado, Kansas 7 over Nebraska, Notre Dame 2 over Pitt, Illinois 4 over Michigan.

SOUTH: Florida 17 over Georgia, Auburns 5 over Miss. State, Duke 8 over Maryland, Memphis State 36 over Citadel, Tennessee 16 over Tulane, Kentucky 17 over Vanderbilt, Clemson 21 over Furman, N. Carolina 6 over Virginia, S. Carolina 7 over N.C. State.

SOUTHWEST: SMU 1 over Texas A&M, Houston 11 over Tulsa, Arizona State 15 over Utah.

FAR WEST: Washington 16 over California, Oregon State 29 over Idaho, Air Force 5 over UCLA.

Russians Start Basketball Tour

New York (AP) — The Soviet Union's men's and women's National Basketball teams open an 8-game tour at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The Russian men's team will oppose a U.S. all-star outfit, representing the cream of the AAU players after the Nashville Business College, AAU women's champions, take on the 1962 European champions in the opener of the doubleheader.

This is the 4th international series between the United States and Russia in basketball. The only previous visit of the Russian basketball teams here was 3 years ago. The U.S. sent teams to Russia in 1958 and 1961.

In the overall competition, the U.S. men's representatives have captured 18 of 20 games. The Russian women hold a 12-8 margin.

Dodgers May Acquire Jerry Lumpe From A's

Los Angeles (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers are trying to swing a deal with the Kansas City Athletics for Jerry Lumpe, second baseman who batted .301 last season.

General manager Buzzie Bavasi of the Dodgers said he had talked today with owner Charles Finley of the A's and that they would confer again Friday.

Jose Torres Charges Patterson Nixed Loan

Boston (AP)—Jose Torres, an ambitious middleweight from New York said Wednesday Floyd Patterson refused to loan him $100,000 needed to guarantee a title fight with Boston's Paul Pender.

"My friend let me down," Torres was quoted as saying by Boston Traveler columnist Tim Horgan. "I thought he was my friend, but no more."

Torres and Pender were slated to meet here Nov. 15 for the piece of the middleweight title Pender shares with Dick Tiger.

The scrap failed to materialize when Torres' manager Cus D'Amato failed to come up with the $100,000 he had guaranteed to pay Pender a week before the fight.

"Monday I had complete assurance that I would be loaned the money," D'Amato said. "But this morning when I went to my lawyer's office to sign the papers the deal had fallen through."

D'Amato didn't say where he intended to get the money, but it was apaprently not from Patterson, the former Heavyweight Champion.

Horgan quoted Torres as saying D'Amato asked Patterson to loan him the money "and Floyd said he was not interested."

"Even when Cus offered him a piece of my contract Floyd said he was not interested," Horgan quoted Torres.

Torres said Floyd had been rather cool toward him for the past year. "I don't know why. Maybe he's jealous of me. He's a sensitive man," said Torres.

4 Incumbents Lose Legislature Races

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Approximately three-fourths of the 1961 state legislators will return to the State Capitol as members of the 1963 Legislature which convenes New Year's Day.

All but 4 of the 35 incumbents who sought re-election won voter approval in Tuesday's general election—and 3 of those 4 lost to former members of the Legislature.

Incumbents who failed to make the grade were:

Sen. H. K. Diers of Gresham who lost to Clinton N. Foster of Benedict in the 24th District.

Sen. Jack Romans of Ord who was edged out by former Sen. LeRoy Bahensky of St. Paul in the 29th District.

Sen. Lewis Webb of Ogallala who lost to former state enator and Democratic Congressman Don McGinley in the 39th District.

Sen. Theodore H. McCosh of Gering who was swept under by former Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

3 Comebacks Fail

Three former legislators who tried for comebacks failed to win sufficient votes in the balloting. They were George Fulton of Beatrice who lost to Thomas H. Damrow of Beatrice in the 3rd District; Dr. C. C. Lillibridge of Crete who was defeated by Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont in the 23rd District, and Dwain Williams of Broken Bow who was edged out by incumbent Sen. M. M. Forrester of Anselmo.

Tightest of all the legislative races was in the 27th District where Sen. Matt Wylie held a slim 61-vote margin over John Homan of Cedar Rapids.

There are 110 absentee votes yet to be counted in the district, and these could change the outcome.

None of the 3 legislative candidates who won primary nomination via the write-in route were successful in their ventures against incumbents with Sens. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper, W. H. Hasebroock of West Point and Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City all winning re-election.

Eight of the 9 new names which will appear on the voting board in the West Senate Chamber in January come from districts where incumbents did not seek re-election.

They are: Dale Payne of Papillion; Edward R. Danner of Omaha; Jerome Warner of Waverly; Thomas Damrow of Beatrice; Eric Rasmussen of Fairmont; Maurice A. Kremer of Aurora; T. C. Reeves of Central City, and Richard Lysinger of Ravenna.

Twelve incumbents were returned to the Legislature without opposition.

Odessa Youth Killed As Gas Truck Upsets

Elm Creek (AP)—Eighteen-year old Patrick E. Rea of Odessa was killed Wednesday when the gasoline truck he was driving overturned on a country road 5 miles north and two miles east of Elm Creek.

Rea was alone in the truck.

The youth and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rea, operated a cafe and service station at Odessa.

The death raised Nebraska's 1962 traffic fatality toll to 324, compared with 283 at this time last year.

Negative Evidence

New York (AP) — A would-be customer posed for two photographs in a shop, then robbed the operator of $240—but forgot the negatives of his pictures. Police distributed 10,000 pictures of the robber the next day.

Kadar Visits

Moscow (AP) — Hungarian party chiefs Janos Kadar arrived in Moscow for talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. He is the fifth East European communist leader to visit Moscow in the last 10 days.

CPPD, Niobrara Sign Agreement

O'Neill (AP)—A second agreement to help eliminate conflicts between power distributors throughout the state was signed Wednesday by Consumers Public Power District and Niobrara Valley Electric Membership Corp. of O'Neill, Consumers announced.

The 10-year agreement defines service areas in Holt and Boyd Counties where each power distributor will offer service.

It provides for the Niobrara Corporation to build a new transmission line from Comsumers hydro electric plant near Spencer to Butte which will replace an old existing line owned by Consumers. Both companies will use the line for delivery of power to customers.

Consumers recently signed a similar agreement with the city of Gering.

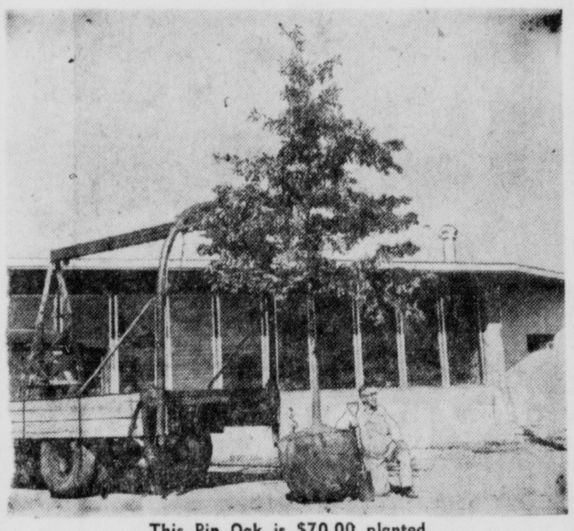
WANTED
1000 HOME OWNERS
Who need the beauty of big shade trees NOW! No need to wait 5 to 10 years if you plant a $70.00 (or larger) tree like that pictured. Beautify your home, your yard, your city Now!



This Pin Oak is $70.00 planted.
We have many Pin Oaks much larger. They run up to $200.00 each

PIN OAKS

With its brilliant autumnal foliage and rapid, symmetrical habit of growth, this tree is in high demand. You can not find nicer, straighter, more sure-to-grow, more symmetrical Pin Oaks in Nebraska than are growing in our fields. We have over 1000 to pick from. We dig them all balled and burlapped, and they are all guaranteed to grow. They are priced, either delivered or completely planted, from $13.00 to $200.00. Many home owners buy these in the $25.00 to $70.00 range; these are more symmetrical than the smaller sizes because we have had more time to train them in our fields. For those folks who feel that time is running out, we recommend the larger sizes. We do have men and equipment to successfully dig and plant all sizes.

STREET TREES

The parking in front of your home (the area between the sidewalk and the curb) is city property and it is necessary to get approval from the City Forester as to where and what kind of tree to plant. Pin Oaks, because of their low-limbing habit are usually denied, unless the parking is quite wide. Red Oak, Redmond Linden, Marshall Seedless Ash and the improved Locusts are usually approved.

NOVEMBER IS A GOOD PLANTING MONTH
Medium to large trees are available in Birch, Imperial and Skyline Locust, Maple, Red Oak and Kentucky Coffee Tree.

Jury Finds Estes Guilty, Gives 8-Year Term

Tyler, Tex. (UPI)—A jury of 11 men and one woman Wednesday found bankrupt farm tycoon Billie Sol Estes guilty of swindling Pecos, Tex., farmer T. J. Wilson on a mortgage deal. They sentenced the 37-year-old Estes to 8 years in the state prison.

Estes

The jury deliberated two hours and 7 minutes before reaching its verdict. It asked Dist. Judge Otis T. Dunagan 3 times to send various records of the mortgage transaction into their chamber.

Defense attorney John D. Cofer said he would file a motion for a new trial, a legal procedure which will clear the way, if refused, for an appeal to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Remains Free

Estes was permitted to remain free on his current $5,000 bond, pending the judge's action on the defense motion for a new trial. If the motion is refused, the judge then will pass formal sentence on Estes.

Estes' attorney did not ask the jury for a suspended sentence. The case went to the panel with a passionate plea for acquittal.

The defendant was impassive during the reading of the verdict. He sagged momentarily with a sigh when the sentence was announced. A violent electrical storm broke outside the courtroom minutes before the verdict was announced.

Arm-In-Arm

Estes and his attractive wife Patsy walked arm-in-arm from the courtroom after jury foreman W. E. Florey announced the verdict. Mrs. Estes appeared to be fighting back tears. The couple and other relatives walked solemnly in heavy rain to their hotel.

The former boy wonder of the West Texas farm and finance world stared intently at each juror as they filed into the courtroom. Several of the jurors looked nervously at the courtroom clock.

There were 3 counts pending against Estes. The jury only had to find him guilty on one. Maximum sentence would have been 10 years.

Pleased

Chief prosecutor R. B. McGowen, district attorney in Estes' home region, said "of course, we are pleased that the jury agreed with our view of the case."

It was Estes' first conviction. He awaits trial on 4 other indictments, both state and federal, including more than 30 counts of theft, swindling, mail fraud, false statements and criminal anti-trust violations.

Defense attorneys pictured the pudgy, bespectacled Estes as more sinned against than sinning.

'Celebrity'

McGowen decried this argument. He said "somehow if you steal enough money, you become something of a celebrity."

After many delays, the case went to trial in Tyler on Oct. 22. The trial was transferred from Pecos to Tyler on a change of venue.

Estes was tried on charges of theft and swindling in a complicated farm equipment mortgage deal with farmer T. J. Wilson of Pecos.

The defense said in its final arguments that it was Wilson and not Estes who profited by the deal.

Chief defense lawyer John D. Cofer said Estes could not be guilty of theft because he gained possession of the mortgage through a contract signed by Wilson.

Chief prosecution witness Harold E. Orr, a former business associate of Estes who told the court of how money involved in the mortgage deal got back to Estes, also came under bitter attack.

Orr was president of Superior Manufacturing Co., which was supposed to have built the fertilizer equipment Wilson bought.

Cofer said Orr "has the mania of self-incrimination . . . to the point where he assumes responsibility for all the crimes that have been committed in West Texas in the last 5 years.

Orr has pleaded guilty to federal fraud and conspiracy charges. Estes is still to be tried on similar charges.

Cofer said the prosecution was asking the jury to proclaim Estes guilty beyond reasonable doubt when the state lawyers themselves "can't tell what they think the defendant is guilty of."

Hasn't Paid

Hume Cofer, son of John Cofer, told the jury that Wilson "has not paid one dime on this obligation (the mortgage), but he is $7,500 ahead.

Hume Cofer also attacked the testimoney given by Orr. He said Orr's testimony was "careless" in that it disagreed with testimony of two other witnesses.

The jury must decide Estes' guilty, Cofer said, "beyond a reasonable doubt and not just by a slight tipping of the scales."

In his charge to the jury, Judge Dunagan spelled out the grounds the jury must use to determine whether Estes is guilty or innocent.

The jury must decide, he said, whether inducements Estes offered to get Wilson to close the deal were fraudulent, whether Estes converted the $94,500 mortgage to his own use, or whether Wilson ever had possession of the mortgage so Estes could steal it.

'State Must Build Industries Employing People'—Klemme

An Omaha-based gas company official said Wednesday evening that Nebraska must search, attract and start industries in areas where automation will have a limited application if the state's economy is to grow.

Randall T. Klemme, vice president of the marketing division of Northern Natural Gas Co., added that Nebraska's economic growth can be spurred by seeking out broad and demanding markets.

Klemme was keynote speaker at the University of Nebraska's annual business careers conference program.

"We're going to have to re-evaluate and support our educational programs in line with the knowledge that certain skills and abilities will be needed if we are going to find these new industries," he said.

Kelmme noted that Nebraska must look to more than the employment bases of agriculture, agricultural processing and transportation.

Nebraska has outstanding possibilities, he said, for the manufacture of greeting cards, plastic pipe, surgical instruments, electronic and telemetry equipment.

Ten University of Nebraska sophomores were honored for their scholastic showing during their freshman year in the College of Business Administration.

The ten highest-ranking students were awarded the William Gold prize keys by William Gold II of Lincoln in ceremonies ending the annual business careers program at the Nebraska Union.

The students honored were Dennis Beeson, Sutherland; Charles Burling, Kenesaw; Dennis P. Christianson, North Platte; Mrs. Alice L. Franks, Lincoln; Karen Hands, Onawa, Iowa; Ken Michaelis, West Point; Gary Oye, Blue Hill; Robert Pohlman, Stanton; Barbara Sieck, Adams; and Jerry Walth, Butte.

Two State Ed Officials Sent To Inman To Help

State Education Commissioner Dr. Floyd Miller Wednesday sent two Department of Education officials to Inman to offer any help they might provide in the controversy which has centered around the Inman High School for the past 10 days.

Consultants Mel Olson and David Hutcheson were assigned to Inman.

"It appears the Inman School Board has the situation in hand and Mr. Olson and Mr. Hutcheson will offer any help the board may wish in the matter," Miller said.

The dispute at Inman arose when the school board proposed to place emphasis on scholarship among its students, even if it meant curtailing athletic activities.

Parents of some students registered strong objections, with the result the school was closed October 29, and did not reopen until Wednesday.

Considine Unimpressed By TV's Election Night Electronic Gear

By BOB CONSIDINE

New York — This is no outright knock at the priceless electronic gear the TV networks rolled into their studios Tuesday night, nor a blast against the various wizards who manned them and interpreted their blinking lights to mean that Dirkson was doing good in Carbondale, Ill.

It was an impressive array, a good deal more impressive than the accumulation of lights, wires, buttons, panels and fuses that the Strategic Air Command has at its headquarters near Omaha, to warn of impending thermonuclear attack. But, after all, the networks have more money than SAC.

We had a different system in the old days around INS. Our combination IBM, Univac and RCA 501 electric brain was a fine guy named Louie Alwell. We didn't have a Victory Desk or a DEW Line or a Political Profile. Just Louie, mainly.

Louie would sit there at his table, toying with a soggy paper cup of coffee, until somebody who was writing the running story would call across the newsroom, "Hey, Lou, how about another projection?"

Our triple-threat would shuffle a few leafs of wire copy for, say, 30 seconds, take a slug of coffee and call back, "With 2 %of the districts reporting, Dewey's a lead-pipe cinch in Vermont."

He never missed.

When it would all be over, and the last hurrah had sounded, Louie would take a fellow out for a drink, too. Did RCA 501 ever spring? Ever see an IBM or a Univac reach for a tab?

During one stage of the returns on TV Chet Huntley of NBC faded out and Ed Morgan of ABC came on. Two wires had crossed somewhere in the bowels of the machines, either NBC's or ABC's or AT&T's.

Things like that never happened around unwired INS. Louie would never let an AP or UP fellow in our shop, though he was quite civil to them after hours.

Plenty of Commercials

It was good TV coverage all around, and so loaded with commercials that American viewers must have lost a composite 10,000,000 pounds of weight getting up from comfortable chairs to turn down the double volume of the messages about coffee, tea, cars, gas, cold pills, laxatives and other basic needs of the nation at this hour when it showed the world that democracy works.

The campaign took its toll near the end, as candidates and their champions worked themselves to the bone.

Dick Nixon, winding up his exhausting campaign against Pat Brown, faced the TV camera and with a determined jut to his jaw said, "And when I become president of California — I mean governor of the United States —I mean . . ."

Paul Scrivane, New York City Council president, in a big final send-off to Democratic senatorial candidate James Donovan, referred to him as "my very good friend Jim Burns."

The veteran Democratic war horse, Herbert Lehman, had a bewildering word for Robert Morgenthau in a final rally.

"I say send the best man to the governor's mansion in Albany," the former governor and senator said with great vigor. "Send Robert Montgomery!"

The voters couldn't find the movie star's name on the ballot, so they re-elected Rockefeller.

Dead Lawmaker Wins Re-Election

San Francisco (UPI)—Rep. Glem Miller, D-Calif., won re-election Wednesday although he was killed in a plane crash a month ago.

Voters of California's First Congressional District gave Miller a narrow posthumous victory over his Republican opponent, Crescent City businessman Don Clausen.

This forced the seat into a January special election to select Miller's successor. He died in a plane crash Oct. 7 while campaigning in his district.

U.S. Threatens Firm Action If Reds Fail To Keep Pledge

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The United States threatened Wednesday to take firm action if the Soviet Union fails to carry out its pledge to remove Soviet offensive weapons from Cuba under international inspection.

Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.N. delegate, told newsmen the United States will take steps to insure compliance on the part of Premier Khrushchev with U.S.-Soviet agreements.

He declined to spell out what measures the United States is contemplating.

Agreement

He said agreement has been reached on Red Cross inspection of Cuba-bound ships and added there was some agreement also on inspection of ships coming out of Cuba.

In Washington it was announced that arrangements had been made for the U.S. Navy to check the number of dismantled missiles being shipped out of Cuba. This is apparently what Stevenson meant by reference to agreement on ships bound from Cuba.

Stevenson made the comment after a late afternoon meeting with acting Secretary-General U Thant to bring him up to date on the progress of U.S.-Soviet negotiations of the Cuban crisis.

Separate Talks

Earlier representatives of the International Committee of the Red Cross and the United Nations met separately with delegates from the United States, the Soviet Union and Cuba on the inspection problem.

A source close to the negotiations said Red Cross inspection of ships leaving Cuba with dismantled Soviet offensive weapons was also considered. Prior to seeing Thant the U.S. delegate had said it was wrong to say that consideration was given to Red Cross inspection of outbound ships.

U.S. sources said they could not elaborate. It appeared that the United States had some plan for surveillance over outbound shipping, but was withholding details pending further talks with the Russians.

Dismantled

In Moscow Premier Khrushchev told newsmen at a Kremlin reception 40 Soviet rockets had been dismantled and are probably on their way to Russia. Washington dispatches said the United States had some evidence that a number of dismantled missiles were loaded aboard ships and may be moving out for home.

Inspection of outbound ships would permit a check on Khrushchev's pledge to President Kennedy that missile bases would be dismantled and the missiles removed from Cuban soil.

There was no indication here this would be sufficient to satisfy the United States, which is demanding on-site inspection.

Big Issue

Informed sources said on-site inspection was one of the issues argued by Stevenson and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov for more than 5 hours Tuesday night without reaching any agreement.

Kuznetsov was reported stalling also on removal of Soviet jet bombers capable of carrying nuclear weapons. The United States classifies the bombers as offensive weapons, along with rockets.

Stevenson and Kuznetsov did not schedule any additional negotiations Wednesday, but both arranged to see Thant.

Complicated

The Soviet position is complicated by apparent failure thus far to persuade Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro to permit any kind of on-site inspection.

RE-ELECTED AT 102

Albert R. Alexander pauses in front of the county courthouse in Plattsburg, Mo., where he worked as usual Wednesday after being elected to his 4th term as magistrate and probate judge. He will observe his 103rd birthday Thursday.

TASS REPORTS U THANT BACKED CONTROL POSTS

Moscow (AP) — Tass news agency said Wednesday U.N. acting Secretary-General U Thant was reported to have suggested U.N. control posts in the Caribbean and the United States to protect Cuba from attack.

In a dispatch from New York, the Soviet agency said:

"It is said in United Nations lobbies that . . . Thant offered as a bilateral guarantee, to set up United Nations control posts in the entire zone of the Caribbean, including the territory of the United States and other Latin American countries in the area from which an attack on Cuba can be made.

"But it is said that the United States does not even want to hear of such a bilateral guarantee."

At U.N. headquarters a spokesman for Thant quoted him as saying: "there is no such proposal."

$11 Million Goes

Washington (UPI) — A total of $11,156,692 went to 97,444 Iowa farms in cost-share assistance under the Federal Agricultural Conservation Program in 1961, the U.S. Agriculture Department said.

Mead Lab Gets Fossil Research

One of the world's largest research and storage facilities for Ice Age and Tertiary fossils is in the making at the Nebraska Agricultural Field Laboratory at Mead.

This has been one of a number of first uses of the university's portion of the Mead Ordinance lands.

One of the buildings in the load lines of the plant now houses the collections.

More than 14 semi-truck loads of prehistoric fossil bones in their field casts, approximately 56 tons, are being placed temporarily in huge neat piles in one of the buildings. Steel shelves will soon be used for their storage.

Dr. C. Bertrand Schultz, director of the University of Nebraska State Museum, said his staff is arranging the bones like a library of books, each one keyed and numbered for future use. The new facility provides space for an active research area.

"We are going to have one of the finest research, collecting and storing facilities for Ice Age and Tertiary fossils in the country when we've finished the job here," he said.

The museum has long been the official U.S. repository for ice age fossils. The federal government and other universities have, for years, sent material to the museum to be identified and correlated.

"Now when visiting scientists or our own students and professors are looking for something special, we can flip a few cards and immediately locate what they're looking for," he said.

Lloyd Tanner, associate curator of vertebrate paleontology at the museum, is in charge of the storage and the materials.

The collection had been stored in the basement of the museum and Andrews Hall on the city campus of the university.

Dr. Schultz said storage space has always been a problem because of the extreme care that must be taken of the irreplaceable fossils and the accurate recording that must be made and maintained.

Airport Authority Upheld In Rejecting Lower Bid

The Lincoln Airport Authority did not act illegally or arbitrarily in accepting the second low bid for railroad relocation work at the Municipal Airport.

This was the finding of Lancaster District Judge Elmer Scheele in an order, on file Wednesday, dissolving the alternative writ of mandamus against the authority and Roberts Construction Co.

W. A. Smith Contracting Co., Kansas City, Kan., which bid $314,875 on the relocation contract, had brought the action contesting its award to the Lincoln firm for $323,868.

The authority by a 3-2 vote tossed out the Smith bid following the July 12 opening on grounds the bid proposal had been detached from the contract document in violation of bidding rules.

Judge Scheele found the board had properly approved all plans and specifications, including the non-detachment provision that is a controlling requirement of the Federal Aviation Agency's and State Aeronautics Department's standard airport construction specifications.

Thus, the court said specifically, the authority did not act arbitrarily in following its pre-announced course of action in eliminating the (Smith) defective proposal.

Smith's petition noted the Federal Aviation Agency is not providing 50% participation in the $8,993 difference between the Robert's and Smith's bids.

However, authority sources say the federal agency may be requested to review this participation matter in view of the state court ruling.

Grading Work At Airport Is Given Okay

General site grading work for Lincoln's $4.8 million Municipal Airport expansion progrom has been given the green light.

Rolland Harr, Airport-Authority executive director, Wednesday said a notice-to-proceed order has been given Theissen Bros., Inc., of Osmond on the $326,932 grading work for the second runway and storm drainage.

Roberts Construction Co. of Lincoln is currently at work on the $323,868 railroad relocation project.

The third contract awarded so far by the authority, has been completed.

General Concrete Co. of Lincoln has finished the $139,009 project for reconstruction and overlay of the east-west taxiway.

Next major contract to be let is for the new north-south civil-use runway and terminal apron estimated at $1,278,524.

Financing of the expansion program includes $1,834,225 federal aid, $175,000 in state grants, a $2.5 million airport revenue bond issue and authority funds of $518,701.

Woman Is Killed Near Central City As Car, Train Hit

A 46-year-old Central City woman lost her life in a car-train collision one mile north of Central City Wednesday.

Mrs. Elmer Burhoop was driving a northbound car that collided with eastbound Burlington No. 58, a small freight train, at a crossing on Nebraska 14, according to the State Safety Patrol.

Engineer of the train was B. B. Berlowitz, 44, of Lincoln.

The death of Mrs. Burhoop raises the state traffic death total to 325, or 42 more than on Nov. 7, 1961.

Woman Alcoholic Will Be Subject Of Study Grant

Alcoholism in women will be studied with a $6,700 research grant awarded by the licensed beverage industries to Mrs. Marilyn Johnson, an instructor in preventive medicine and public health at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine.

The grant is for a one-year period.

Mrs. Johnson and her assistant investigator, Miss Jo Hanna de Vries, registered nurse and mental health nursing consultant at the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute, became interested in the problem of women alcoholics after attending the 1961 Yale summer school of alcoholic studies.

Two more professional nurses—Mrs. Mary Houghton and Mrs. Jane Jensen—complete the research team as interviewers for the project.

The subject of the study is, "the use of selected informants as a method of identifying the behaviour of female alcoholics."

'Merit Plan' Work Is Just Now Starting

Backers of the so-called Merit Plan for judicial selection expressed gratitude Wednesday that the constitutional amendment was approved in Tuesday's balloting.

But, they indicated, the work is just beginning.

Earl Cline of Lincoln and Harry B. Coffee of Omaha, co-chairmen of the Citizens Committee for the Merit Plan, pledged their support for sound comprehensive legislation to implement plan.

"Now that we have the approval of the voters we can work with the members of the Unicameral to develop a smooth and positive system of judicial selection in Nebraska," Cline said.

The Merit Plan will permit the establishment of selection commissions in each of the state's judicial districts for the purpose of screening candidates for vacancies in judicial offices. Under the Merit Plan the governor will appoint judges to the supreme and district courts upon the recommendation of the commissions. Following a period of service the judges will run for the election "on their records," and not against other candidates.

"The period of service for commission members, the method of screening of candidates and the criteria upon which they will base their decisions are some of the areas we will now concentrate our efforts in," Cline said.

Research Costing 11 Pct. Of Budget

Washington — Federal government expenses for research and development amount to 11% of the national budget and are more than twice the combined investment in research of industry and the foundations, schools, and other nonprofit institutions.

'Great Lady' Receives High Tribute From Democrats And Republicans Alike

By The Associated Press

"One of the great ladies in the history of this country has passed from the scene," said President Kennedy Wednesday night in mourning the death of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Tribute came from Republicans and Democrats alike for a world's first lady who was the widow of a Democratic president, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and the niece of a Republican president, Theodore Roosevelt.

Leaders of the nation and the world expressed sorrow.

A Carnegie Hall concert audience in New York bowed heads in silence for two minutes.

"Her loss will be deeply felt by all those who admired her tireless idealism or benefitted from her good works and wise counsel," said President Kenedy in a statement issued from the White House where Mrs. Roosevelt resided for over 12 years.

"Since the day I entered this office, she has been both an inspiration and a friend . . ."

Herbert Hoover, whom Mrs. Roosevelt's husband succeeded in the White House, described her as "a lady of fine courage and great devotion to her country."

U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, the only person outside of the immediate family to visit her during her final illness, said:

"Like so many others, I have lost more than a beloved friend. I have lost an inspiration. She would rather light candles than curse the darkness and her glow has warmed the world."

In Ottawa, Canada, Lester B. Pearson, who was president of the U.N. General Assembly when Mrs. Roosevelt was a delegate, said:

"She was one of the great women of our time and her contribution toward progress in her own country was only equaled by her contribution to all good international causes."

Asst. Sec. of State W. Averill Harriman, former New York governor, said, "she has been perhaps the greatest of all American ambassadors of good will. Not only Americans, but people in every country thought of her as their friend."

Former New York Gov. and Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, long a personal friend and political associate of Mrs. Roosevelt, said, "there is no one anywhere in the world who will not be deeply grieved at the sad news of the passing of one of the greatest women of all time . . . her place can never be filled in the hearts of countless people whom she has befriended and helped over a life of unfailing service and selfless devotion. The world is much poorer for her going."

James A. Farley, postmaster general in Franklin D. Roosevelt's cabinet, commented:

"Her devotion to duty was truly unselfish and as long as the memory of an American woman is recorded in our country's annals, the name of Anna Eleanor Roosevelt will be enshrined."

New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner said, "she was so grand a woman, so rare a person, so pure a spirit that to judge our loss at this moment is impossible . . . a light has gone out of our lives, something has died for each and every one of us."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said, "the life of a historic and beloved American lady has ended. All in the world with a heart will mourn her loss."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said "few have ever lived so fully or given so much to others. Mrs. Roosevelt was a gracious first lady; yet, after the death of a great husband, she went on to a distinguished career of her own."

Stock Prices Move Upward

New York (AP) — The stock market's first post-election session Wednesday brought a surprising advance which came after some early profit-taking was absorbed. Trading was active.

As the market moved irregularly lower in the morning, Wall Streeters said the election results had no apparent effect on stock prices. On the other hand, the list had gone 6 straight sessions without a loss, rising sharply on five days. So profit taking was in order.

In addition, the list was in what has been regarded as an area of supply—where many holders wanted to unload stocks. There were, indeed, some sizable offerings at the start but these were absorbed handily. As the market withstood the selling without serious damage, more buying was attracted, brokers said.

Gradually gathering steam, the list made an uneven but fairly steep advance. Trading was heavy.

The Dow Jones industrial average advanced 5.27 to 615.75—chewing away considerable resistance in the supply area regarded as existing between 610 and 620 in the average.

While analysts said the election results were meaningless early in the day, there was some further searching for reasons as prices improved. In some quarters the opinion was expressed that Democratic gains in some areas might make for greater government spending in 1963 and this could have encouraged some investors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 2.3 to 226.7 with industrials up 3.5, rails up 1.7, and utilities up .7.

An estimated $3.3 billion was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in the AP average.

Of 1,292 issues traded, 732 advanced and 316 declined. There were nine new highs for the year and four new lows.

Volume was 4.58 million shares compared with 4.32 million Monday.

Prices also were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was one million shares compared with 1.03 million Monday.

Corporate bonds advanced in moderate trading. U.S. governments were unchanged to slightly higher.

Grain Market Closes Mixed

Chicago (AP) — The small volume of grain futures business Wednesday was centered mostly in a few contracts of wheat, corn and soybeans and it sent prices both ways from previous closes on the Board of Trade.

Nearby wheat deliveries were the best gainers with advances of major fractions to more than a cent. The December contract posted the extreme advances on support credited to export accounts.

Corn rallied slightly but finished mixed. Trade there was described as mainly spreading with speculators selling the December and buying later months, mostly the September which moved up a cent. December ended with a small loss and only a fraction above the season's low.

Some of the weakness in soybeans, where nearly all months were down major fractions or more, was believed to have been linked with a private crop report which estimated the 1962 yield at 685.3 million bushels.

The estimate was the largest of the year and was up about 15 million from the outlook a month ago. Brokers explained, though, the supply is by no means likely to be unmanageable. If the figure should be confirmed by the government's monthly report next week, the carryover next October would amount to only a little more than a month's requirements.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1¼ cents a bushel higher, December $2.09⅝-¾; corn ½ lower to ⅛ cent higher, December $1.01½-⅝; oats ¼-⅝ higher, December 65-65⅛ cents; rye unchanged to ½ higher, December $1.22¼; soybeans ⅜-1¼ lower, November $2.40⅜-½.
